Navy Reports New Destruction Of Jap Ships By Subs

U. S. Subs Sink Ten More Ships In Pacific Zone

Navy Department Reports
New Destruction Of Jap
Ships By Sub Attacks

SECOND REPORT WITHIN WEEK

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Destruction of ten more Japanese vessels by long range U. S. submarines in the Pacific was announced today by the navy.

At the same time the navy announced that a lone American reconnaissance plane attacked and sank a 1,000 ton enemy freighter near Ocean island, 220 miles west of the Gilbert islands in the South Pacific.

Among the vessels sunk by submarines were one patrol craft, two tankers, six freighters and one cargo transport. Three other Japanese supply ships were damaged by the Yank subs.

Boost Jap Losses To 487
The submarine score, announced today, boosted to 487 the number of Japanese ships sunk, probably sunk and damaged by American undersea craft since the outbreak of war.

In the action near Ocean island the navy said the reconnaissance plane apparently was damaged by anti-aircraft fire and a number of her personnel were wounded. These actions reported by the navy against Japanese shipping were in addition to the heavy blows struck by Allied airmen against enemy vessels in Rabaul harbor, where 15 Nipponese craft were reported sunk and others damaged.

This was the second submarine action communiqué within a week and bore out Secretary of the Navy Knox's recent statement that America's undersea offensive was in full swing and would gain momentum in the months to come.

Allies Gain

Allied forces continued to gain today on virtually all fronts while unconfirmed reports from varied sources indicated that new movements were afoot in the mounting offensive to crush the Axis powers. Both Tokyo and Berlin indicated growing concern with the next Allied blows with a broadcast which stated that British and American warships had been transferred to the Indian ocean, possibly in anticipation of a drive on Burma.

PA NEWG OBSERVES

Three weeks from today is Thanksgiving Day all over the nation. The period of two different dates being observed in different states has passed.

Some prevues of what's to come could be seen early this morning on autos that had not been inside a garage during the night. The front windshield was quite well frosted over on these cars, although the temperature was only in the lower thirties.

Gilbert Light of the East Brook road, while hunting near his home last evening, shot a rabbit and at the crack of the gun a rindneck flew up, and he raised his gun and gave it the left barrel. He then walked over and picked up the two within ten feet of each other.

Having an exceptional abundance of nearly perfect roses blooming all summer is a thrill for flower and garden enthusiasts but to have a rose to look at during this cold spell is something to be jubilant about. And so it happens with Mrs. Flora Swisher of Mt. Jackson. She had fine success with her flowers this year, and at present, she has one beautiful single red rose and two buds in her yard.

Daily Weather Report

United States weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 a. m. today are as follows:
Maximum temperature, 43.
Minimum temperature, 31.
Precipitation, .02 inches.
River stage, 4.5 feet.

Statistics for the same date a year ago follow:
Maximum temperature, 48.
Minimum temperature, 29.

MISSING GIRL RETURNS HOME

MARGARET MOORE

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Margaret Leigh Moore, missing 14-year-old daughter of a prominent New York family returned to her home today, police were advised.

No details concerning her adventure which started when she met a sailor in Central Park were disclosed immediately.

Her reappearance ended a nine-state search which had centered around Columbus.

Accompanied by a sailor who registered as Edward Moore, Miss Moore left Columbus yesterday morning, police allege, after employees of a local hotel identified the couple from newspaper photographs. The pair police were told, had registered at the hotel Monday as man and wife, giving St. Louis as their address.

WILLIS LEADS IN KENTUCKY

Republican Candidate For Governor Leads Democratic Rival By 5,000

FRANKFORD, Ky., Nov. 4.—(INS)—Simeon S. Willis, Republican candidate for governor, took a lead of more than 5,000 votes today over his Democratic rival, J. Lyter Donaldson, in the first round of the election in one of the closest races for the office in years.

Democratic leaders conceded the election of Willis with the reservation that it might take the official count to make the result certain. In 3,971 of the state's 4,277 precincts, the vote was: Willis, 257,545; Donaldson, 252,270, a margin of 5,275 in the Republican's favor.

Barring an upset in the missing precincts, Willis will be the third G. O. P. governor of Kentucky in the last 24 years. Republican campaign leaders insisted that not only was victory now certain, but that Willis might run up a majority of 8 to 10 thousand with the votes from the remaining precincts which mostly are in the farm and mountain counties.

If final returns confirm the election of Willis, Kentucky will have joined other sections of the country in administering defeats to Democratic candidates—New Jersey for lieutenant governor, New Jersey for governor and Philadelphia for mayor.

Resurfacing Of Highland Avenue To Be Delayed

Highland and Long avenues will not be resurfaced this year, according to John Z. Street's report to council at a session held in the municipal building today.

He said Contractor Roy Furman had decided to end resurfacing here this year with the completion of shortest portion of the program—Washington street between the city line and Butler avenue. He expects to complete this work today.

The contractor has decided to quit now instead of running the risk of colliding with bad weather which might interfere with or damage the resurfacing and possibly cause him a financial loss.

Presidential Campaign Rumors Follow Election

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Two new rumors about the 1944 presidential race are circulating in Washington today as an aftermath of the Republican landslide in Tuesday's election.

They are:
1. By Democrats that President Franklin D. Roosevelt will not be a candidate for a fourth term.

2. By Republicans that General Douglas MacArthur will be drafted from his South Pacific army command as the GOP standard-bearer next year if Gov. Thomas E.

Dewey, of New York, persists in making himself unavailable for the 1944 campaign.

Rumor Started

The rumor that Mr. Roosevelt proposes to retire at the end of his third term started among high-placed Democrats. It pictures the president as tired of his great tasks and preferring to turn the reins of government over to another leader, after he completes twelve years in the White House.

The rumor says that Mr. Roosevelt feels he has set up the machinery not only to win the war but to preserve peace in the postwar (Continued On Page Two)

THREE ARE KILLED; CAR HITS BRIDGE

WILKES-BARRE, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Three people were killed and two injured today when their car struck a bridge and was demolished at nearby Dallas.

State police identified the victims as Gertrude Gnot and Stella Stanski, both of Edwarsville, and Paul Pedrow of Larksville. Bernard Jenkins of Luzerne, and Malcolm LaFrance of Larksville, were rushed to the Nesbitt Memorial hospital in a serious condition.

Miners Begin Return To Work As Strike Ends

ICKES AND LEWIS REACH TENTATIVE AGREEMENT WHICH ENDS MINE TIEUP

LEWIS ORDERS MEN TO RETURN TO WORK

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Striking coal miners started back to their jobs today under a tentative new contract providing nearly all of the $2-a-day wage increase which Mine Chief John L. Lewis first demanded seven months ago.

The 460,000 bituminous miners—ordered by union officials to resume production in the government-seized pits "at the earliest possible moment"—will receive $1.50 a day more, however, only for an hour's extra work digging war-vital coal.

An estimated 40,000 anthracite mine workers were promised in the agreement, negotiated between Lewis and Federal Mine Custodian Harold L. Ickes, 70 cents a day additional pay. The work day of the hard coal diggers was lengthened 15 minutes.

Ends Fourth Strike

Local Man Wins Promotion For Daring Exploit

Paratrooper Lt. John J. Klish
One Of Five To Return
From Dangerous
Mission

Sgt. John J. Klish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Klish, of the Old Pittsburgh road, is now Lt. John J. Klish, following his return from one of the most dangerous and daring missions behind the German lines in Italy, word received by the parents-relatives. Only five survived the mission.

Sgt. Klish and a large detachment of other paratroopers was dropped behind the German lines in Italy to destroy bridges, highways and railroad installations. It took two weeks to complete the job assigned this daring group. Those who returned said they would never have made it if the Italian population had not helped them.

They said the natives informed them where the German troops were located and even concealed them in hiding places when they ran into German forces that outnumbered them by the thousands.

"We were just a handful of men," said Lt. Klish. "We had to fight and weave our way through thousands of Germans. Unfortunately all of us did not get back. Some were killed and others were captured. Only five of us were lucky."

Lt. Klish is married and has a daughter two years old. His wife and daughter reside with the former's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lashway, of Washington, D. C.

Crushing New Rabaul Attack Costly To Japs

Twenty-Six Enemy War-craft Sunk Or Damaged In Latest U. S. Victory

PLANE LOSS PLACED
AS AROUND 108 TOTAL

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Nov. 4.—Japanese efforts to organize for a large-scale counter-blow against the expanding American drive in the Solomons were crushed today by a smashing new Allied aerial assault on Rabaul in which 26 Jap warcraft were sunk or damaged and 108 Nipponese aircraft destroyed or probably destroyed.

Many Ships Sunk
Three destroyers, eight large merchant ships and four small coastal vessels were sunk. Two heavy cruisers suffered direct hits, one of which was left listing with a large hole in its hull, and seven large merchant ships and two tankers were blasted. The tonnage of the vessels sunk was placed at 50,000 while the ships damaged had an aggregate tonnage of 30,000.

Twin-motored medium Mitchell bombers escorted by powerful Lightning fighters carried out the blistering assault, greatest yet against enemy shipping in this theater, in the face of fierce Japanese opposition. The anti-aircraft fire sent up by the Japs was the heaviest experienced at the New Britain Island base to date and the enemy sent squadrons of fighter craft into the air to combat the raiders.

Despite the Jap efforts to ward off the assault the American planes scored a resounding victory.

REPORT SOME NAZIS
FLEEING IN PANIC

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Nov. 4.—The Red army today was within 18 miles of the Black sea harbor of Kherson and smashed into the Dnieper delta to within 20 miles of the river mouth in a fan-shaped drive which recaptured another 80 villages.

Simultaneously, other Soviet forces inside the Dnieper bend south of Dnepropetrovsk captured seven important towns in a three-pronged attack toward Krivoi Rog, Apostolovo and Nikolov.

Over 3,500 Nazi officers and men were killed, "vast quantities" of materiel was either captured or destroyed, and many prisoners were taken in yesterday's fighting from the Black sea sector to the Dnieper bend, a Moscow communiqué said.

Smashes Ahead
South of the Dnieper, the Fourth Ukrainian Army had smashed its way across the Nogais Steppe and after cutting off the Crimea captured Chelbasy and Bolshaya Kapany, 23 and 18 miles, respectively, below Kherson.

The Fourth Ukrainian tanks, mechanized infantry and famed Cossack horsemen killed more than 2,000 Germans in their drive to the port's coast of Karkintsky gulf, the Moscow announcement said. In addition 16 Nazi tanks, 34 artillery pieces and 13 six-barreled mortars were destroyed. Among the "immense stock of booty seized" by the Fourth Ukrainians were "10,000 head of horned cattle and 800 horses."

Panicky Retreat
Between Russian-held Kakovka and Kherson, thousands of panicked, retreating Nazis tried desperately to escape the crossing the lower Dnieper to the north and west. (Continued On Page Two)

War Fund Given Boost To $106,830 This Afternoon

Workers In Campaign Report $51,938 Additional At Day's Meeting

VICTORY DINNER ON MONDAY NIGHT
United War Fund campaigners reported a total of $51,938.88 today at noon at the luncheon meeting in The Castleton Hotel, bringing the grand total to $106,830.88.

So confident that the quota of $125,000 will be met and passed is Judge John G. Lamore, chairman of the campaign, and his fellow workers that Monday night has been set not as the final report night but as "Victory Night."

"We are going to reach our quota," said Judge Lamore, "because you and I are going out when this meeting adjourns and bring that money in. We can't fail and we won't fail." This prediction was repeated by Fred L. Rentz, L. B. Round and James M. Smith, Jr., who spoke briefly.

The returns of the various teams, aside from the industrial group to day was $19,439.39. The industrial group returned $32,500 as a partial report. J. J. McCoy did not report for the clubs today but will report Monday night.

Between now and Monday night November 8, a group of go-getters banded together as the United War Fund.

Morgenthau Wants Another Tax Boost

Secretary Of Treasury Back
From Battlefront Wants
To Increase Taxes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Treasury Secretary Morgenthau declared today that he had returned from his battlefront tour more convinced than ever of the necessity for additional taxes to pay one-half of war expenses.

Morgenthau made his statement in the face of a congressional refusal to draft a tax bill approaching the $12,000,000,000 additional sought by the administration.

"The soldiers are worrying about what kind of economy they are going to come back to," Morgenthau declared at his first news conference since returning from the Mediterranean theater of war. "They are worried about whether they are going to have to fight the war and then pay for it when they come back."

Asserting that the national income is now running in excess of $150,000,000,000 annually, Morgenthau declared that, "I think that the soldiers would feel happier, and I know I would, if at least 50 per cent of the cost of the war can be paid for now when we can afford it."

Allied Armies In Italy Continue To Drive Ahead

Smash Through Breaches In Western Flank Of Nazi
Defense Line

GERMANS DROP
BACK NORTHWARD

BULLETIN
(International News Service)

ALGIERS, Nov. 4.—A master stroke by British and American troops of the Fifth Army in smashing the Germans out of Massico ridge and the Croce heights paid full dividends today when the entire enemy right wing was forced to sacrifice laboriously constructed defense positions for improvised mountain lines much farther back.

Authentic evidence from the Massico to the broken German line anchor on the Matese chain reveals to advancing Allied troops that all German skill and ingenuity had been devoted for at least six weeks to the building and manning of perhaps the most formidable natural defense system below Rome.

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALGIERS, Nov. 4.—American and British troops of the Fifth Army in Italy forged ahead rapidly today through breaches smashed through the western flank of the Nazi defense line and seized several additional points in an advance on the heels of the retreating enemy.

Eighth Army troops on the front northeast of the sectors manned by the Fifth also pushed forward. Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army captured Massico, Sessa, Aurunca, Roccamonfina and Presenzano.

The Eighth Army took Calatrazo.

Germans Drop Back
The Germans dropped back northward under punishing blows along the western end of the battle line along a 35-mile stretch from the Tyrrhenian sea to Gailo after the Fifth crumbled the Nazi mountain defenses south of the Garigliano river.

One wing of Gen. Mark W. Clark's forces struck out from newly-won positions along the Massico ridge toward the historic Apennine Way leading to Rome.

The right wing of the Fifth, consisting of American troops, simultaneously beat a path forward in the direction of Venafro and seized territory within seven miles of their goal.

The smashing thrust of the American and British troops battered down one of the most formidable defense lines yet established in Italy by the Nazis and appreciably lessened the prospects that the enemy could hold out at length below Rome.

From high positions all along the front from the ridges of Massico to Gailo in the Matese mountain region the Allies were able to survey the new German positions along the Garigliano. It is expected the Nazis will attempt the same type of stand behind the Garigliano which was made at Massico, since a few miles beyond the river lies a twin set of heights forming a natural barrier.

Miners Prepare To Resume Job

Jubilant That Coal Strike Controversy Has Again Come To An End

ICKES AND LEWIS REACH AGREEMENT

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Thousands of jubilant miners were preparing to return to the coal pits of Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, and everybody was happy as the nation-wide strike was ended.

Steel mills which had begun to cut down operations immediately revised their schedules to approach capacity production again. The general public was happy at the prospect of having household coal bins filled again as cold weather approached.

Settlement of grievances over wages was reached at the last minute by John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and Harold Ickes, secretary of the interior, under orders from the federal government which had taken over management of the pits.

A resumption of the heavy flow of fuel to war-producing factories was expected within a day or two.

The settlement came only a few hours after the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation had been forced to slash output at its huge Clairton by-products and coke plant to 50 per cent of capacity because of diminishing coal reserves, and after the nine huge blast furnaces had been ordered banked.

Although happy, most of the miners were still resentful at the War Labor Board, which had withheld from them the terms of an agreement which finally decided the issue—the $1.50 increase asked by the union more than seven months ago.

sea told the fliers that escorting Lightning fighter craft had sighted trouble.

The aerial fighting began above just a second later. Then came ack-ack in plentiful quantities from the shore batteries. Less than half a mile away a destroyer surprised in mid-channel opened fire with everything it had.

Advance planes swept in between the mother and daughter volcanoes to pound the Lakunai airstrip.

Capt. Ellis opened fire as his craft began to climb over the steep slopes. Then suddenly the whole panorama of ship-teeming Simpson harbor could be seen ahead.

Cruisers and destroyers were maneuvering in the harbor and belching flak salvos. The Mitchell lead elements swept through the ack-ack defenses to pummel Lakunai and the township itself.

Hit Ships In Harbor

At an altitude substantially below 50 feet Ellis' plane made its first run on a 5,000-ton cargo vessel, the forward guns raked the wheelhouse with a blistering barrage. A blinking light indicated that the first 1,000-pound bomb was away.

The ship was back just over the water once more and beginning a second run—this time on the biggest merchantman in the harbor, a two-stacked 10,000-tonner.

Ellis and Co-Pilot Lieut. John Dean grabbed the controls simultaneously and then, with a stomach-thudding heave, pulled the plane up over the vessel and loosed the second 1,000-pounder. The rear gunner confirmed that the bomb landed square amidships. When last seen the vessel was slashed in half and sinking.

Then the plane staggered "up hill" over the ridge surrounding Simpson harbor on the south. Within seconds the plane was in a rain squall and then it emerged to face a force of Jap Zeros.

Eight Zeros tacked onto the tail. Masterly, cool firing by Staff Sgt. Emmor Mullenbaur of Lima, O., and James Bowling of Hamilton, O., accounted for at least one Zero.

The plane was almost an hour away from the targets before the Zeros finally departed and Ellis' plane was free to continue its way unmolested.

The crew knew then that they would be home before long despite the fact there was a 20 millimeter shell hole through the right engine.

ALLIED ARMIES IN ITALY CONTINUE TO DRIVE AHEAD

Venafra, key to the Nazi defenses in central Italy, still faced the difficulties of rugged terrain in closing in on the base which now is well within range of artillery.

In their advance the Yanks seized Gallo, Prata and Pratella after smashing the Nazi defenses based on the Matese mountains. The Germans made frantic efforts without success to frustrate the Yank push by sending in tank units which were beaten by the American artillery.

The Americans and Britons along the entire line from the sea to Gallo grabbed off about three miles of territory and forced the Germans to retire behind rear-guard units to other prepared positions.

Control Massico Ridge

A push by the British in which they gained a foothold on Mount Croce gave the Allies practically entire control of the Massico ridge. All that remained of the enemy there were isolated nests hidden in the rocks.

Beyond the Fifth Army front to the northeast the left wing of the Eighth Army moved into positions from which the important central road junction of Isernia was brought into artillery range.

Near the Adriatic side of the line the Eighth Army extended its two bridgeheads across the Trigno river but beyond they faced new difficulties because of the high hills commanded by the Germans.

Allied aircraft meanwhile added the ground batteries in hammering the Nazis from their mountain defenses by almost continuous sorties over the battlefield.

In a forward drive of three miles the Fifth Army broke into the Gargano river valley where the Germans fell back on other prepared defense positions.

The break-through into the valley was achieved by the capture of Aurunca and the Fifth Army units left the Massico ridge, former German coastal anchor, far behind.

Axis Losses Much Higher Than Allies In Mediterranean

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Secretary of War Stimson revealed today that Axis losses in the Mediterranean theater of war are running six to one in the allies favor.

The secretary said that American losses since landings were made in Africa, and in the subsequent invasion of Europe, have totaled 5,539 killed, 17,621 wounded and 7,966 missing—most of the latter prisoners of war.

"Our total losses, and that includes American, British and French allied troops, have been slightly under 100,000," Stimson said. Compared to these figures, he said, the Axis losses have been 40,000 killed, 90,000 wounded and 468,655 prisoners captured.

"This makes a total of Axis losses 600,000 or six to one in our favor," the secretary emphasized.

R. A. F. BOMBERS FOLLOW UP HUGE AMERICAN RAID

Nazis of the night attack said Cologne was assaulted but no mention was made of Duesseldorf.

Cologne itself is a vital industrial center and rail artery. The Germans asserted in line with the usual propaganda from that residential quarters were bombed and said that the historic cathedral was heavily damaged.

Observers along the English channel coast declared that the force of British night bombers which put out over the continent was large.

Follows U. S. Attack

The night aerial blow as struck after heavy and medium bombers, fighter-bombers and fighters of the United States Eighth Air Force completed an active day of operations against Nazi targets in Germany, France and the occupied Netherlands.

The largest force of American Flying Fortresses and Liberators, escorted by Lightnings and Thunderbolts, blasted the ship and submarine buildings plants at Wilhelmshaven on the northwest coast of Germany.

The American craft, estimated to have totaled some 1,000 planes, included approximately 400 heavy bombers, dropped a greater weight of bombs on Wilhelmshaven than they had unleashed in any previous attacks on the port city.

That a heavy blow had been struck at the northwest Reich was acknowledged by the Germans who asserted in broadcasts following the raid that the American planes had dropped their bombs "at random" through a dense cover of clouds.

Strong fighter opposition was encountered by the Eighth Air Force planes which destroyed 34 Nazi craft in combat. Only five of the American heavy bombers were lost. The Forts and Liberators downed 18 German fighters while the Thunderbolts and Lightnings accounted for the other 16.

RED ARMY PUSHES TOWARD KHERSON, BLACK SEA HARBOR

But they were decimated by low-flying Soviet planes with machine guns and bombs. Luftwaffe planes tried to interfere, and fifteen of them were shot to the ground.

In one area of the Nogais sector the Nazis managed to "consolidate on an intermediate line," but Moscow said a Soviet unit swept around to the enemy's rear, routed a German infantry regiment which was "partly wiped out and deprived of all its arms."

To the southwest of Dniepropetrovsk 22 German tanks and 49 heavy guns were destroyed, and at least 1,500 Nazis were "wiped out."

Counter-Attacks Beaten

In another unspecified sector the communists said Red Army units beat off five German counter-attacks.

Prisoners were quoted as saying the German 15th infantry division in the Dnieper bend had sustained "enormous losses," and that most of its companies were left with only 15 or 20 men each.

For the first time in ten days the Russian high command omitted mention of the gigantic battle which has been raging along the approaches to Kirov Rog. At this point in the heart of the loop of the Dnieper, the Nazis have been hurling massive counter-attacks with reinforcements drawn from other sorely-pressed sectors of the front.

PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN RUMORS FOLLOW ELECTION

world. It says Mr. Roosevelt expects defeat of Germany in 1944 and of Japan a year later. It reports that he feels the agreements reached at the Moscow conference insure a working formula for restoring peace in Europe after Germany surrenders and provide a method for maintaining peace in the future.

Some conservative Democratic foes and some Republican critics believe the rumor will prove true but for different reasons than those cited by the president's friends. The critics say that "Kentucky was to Roosevelt what Moscow was to Hitler—a certain sign of impending defeat."

Will Not Jeopardize Prestige

Of the president's greatest Democratic admirers had this to say about the rumor: "Mr. Roosevelt will never jeopardize his great prestige by entering a fourth term campaign that can end only in certain defeat."

On the Republican side, immediate reaction on Capitol Hill to the Republican landslide in New York state was that Gov. Dewey could have the GOP nomination in 1944 without the asking. The governor rather startled his followers in Washington by his blunt declaration, "I am not and shall not become a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1944."

Some Republicans believe that Dewey will be drafted anyway. Others believe that if he persists in his "unavailability," he will talk himself out of the campaign. Predominant sentiment among Capitol Republicans is strong against Wendell Willkie, their 1940 standard-bearer. This is where the name of Gen. MacArthur enters the picture. One prominent Republican leader observed:

See MacArthur Slogan

"MacArthur will be a formidable figure if the war in the Pacific is going slowly, no matter what is happening in Europe. The slogan would be: 'Make MacArthur the real commander-in-chief, win the war quickly and bring our boys home.' MacArthur would remain at his present post during the campaign and say only that he is a good soldier and will accept any assignment given him by the American people."

These are the rumors. On the factual side is the fact that organized labor went into the campaigns in New Jersey, Philadelphia and Detroit and got a major beating in each instance. In New York, AFL backed the Republican candidate and CIO endorsed the Democrat. Labor's attitude violated Samuel Gompers old injunction against "playing politics as labor union" and bore out his warning that only defeat will result.

Another significant fact, being mulled over by politicians, was the activity of women in Tuesday's elections. It seems apparent that a majority of woman voters are opposed to the administration and voted their opposition.

CRUSHING NEW RABAU ATTACK COSTLY TO JAPS

nouncement of the raid, "was a scene of utter wreckage and destruction."

At least 67 Jap planes were shot out of the air in grueling combat and it is believed 23 more were destroyed. Seven enemy fighters and a bomber were wrecked on the ground at Lakunai airfield and off-shore eight floatplanes and two four-engine flying boats were sunk.

The Allied losses, nine bombers and 10 fighters, were the heaviest in any single raid so far but the loss of these craft was considered small in view of the importance and success of the mission.

Gen. MacArthur said the attack on the Jap naval concentrations in Simpson Harbor, Rabaul, was carried out in anticipation of an enemy counter-attack in the Bougainville area where American forces are pressing a drive to oust the Japs from their last stronghold in the Solomons.

Harbor Swept Clean

Testifying to the effectiveness of the raid in which the Mitchells swept down to mast height to plaster the Jap ships with 1,000-pound bombs, the communists said:

"The harbor was practically swept clean, nearly every ship there being heavily hit or sunk by 1,000-pound bombs."

The American assault forces which landed at Empress Augusta Bay on the west coast of Bougainville meanwhile consolidated and enlarged their beachhead. On one sector the Japs abandoned 135 dead.

American torpedo bombers, giving direct support to the ground troops, downed 21 Jap fighters and a bomber and probably destroyed six other Jap planes.

Considerable other action was reported in the Solomons area.

MINERS BEGIN RETURN TO WORK AS STRIKE ENDS

War Labor Board which was scheduled to meet on it during the day. One provision may raise objections from WLB.

Ickes announced the agreement after the mine workers had defied for 24 hours a back-to-work order from President Roosevelt, waiting for specific instructions from Lewis and the United Mine Workers' 200-man policy committee which ratified the proposal. The resumption of work now is expected to be gradual with full-scale production unlikely before Monday.

The bushy-browed UMW president, whose followers struck three times last summer and forced government seizure of the mines once before, immediately dispatched this message to the coal fields:

"Your international officers and members of your scale and policy committees of all districts urge immediate compliance with this contract, and the fullest degree of co-operation to make it effective.

"Let every member recognize that the nation's imperative need for coal requires the most prompt action in restoring the mines to full production."

Resume Immediately

Ickes declared that the mining of coal for war "must be resumed immediately," asserting that the agreement would yield an estimated 20,000,000 tons of bituminous coal annually each year and 2,000,000 of anthracite.

Objections of the WLB to the original wage proposal submitted by the UMW and Illinois coal operators—generally regarded as a "model" for the entire soft coal industry—were overcome by cutting the miners' 30-minute lunch period to 15 minutes, providing that much more productive work.

The bituminous miners will receive $8.50 for an 8½ hour day, including travel time, which is estimated at 45 minutes. By adding the 15 minutes of the lunch period they actually will be digging coal eight hours daily.

Under the old contract which expired last March 31 they were paid $7 for a seven-hour day at the "face" of the mine, travel time not being considered at all. They would have received by its terms $8.50 for eight hours work, since the eighth hour is paid for at time and one-half.

Thus, the mine workers receive in the new contract the same basic daily payment as under the old one. But on a weekly basis, they will get paid for the travel time under the wage-hour law which provides for such compensation after 40 hours weekly.

The WLB rejected the original 11*

KARNS - BREST WEDDING TAKES PLACE WEDNESDAY

Wednesday, November 3, at 12:45 p. m. Miss Dorothy L. Karns, daughter of Ward Karns of 308 Jones street, New Castle, became the bride of Cpl. Robert W. Brest, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Clyde Brest of 440 West Tenth street, Erie, former residents of New Castle, at an impressive ceremony marked by simplicity. Vows were exchanged in the First Baptist church with the pastor, Rev. Oliver W. Hurst, officiating.

For her wedding, the bride was attractive in a brown two-piece sheer wool suit with accessories in dusty pink. Her shoulder corsage of orchids completed her attire. Miss Marian Cowan of this city was maid of honor. She appeared in an aqua sheer wool dress with accompaniments in black, complemented with a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

Harry L. McNeill of Ellwood City, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Mrs. W. H. Luikart, church organist, added to the impressiveness of the occasion with her program of appropriate selections. She played during the ceremony "Still As the Night," "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me."

A wedding dinner was served afterwards at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Byerley, 308 Jones street. Appointments were suggestive of the nuptial theme, pink and white being used as the predominating colors in the tiered cake adorned the table center. Mrs. Barbara Bupp aided.

Mrs. Brest is employed at the Shenango Pottery here, and Cpl. Brest is stationed at Camp Pickett, Va. Prior to entering the service he was employed with the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp.

Following a short wedding trip Cpl. Brest will return to Camp Pickett and Mrs. Brest will remain in New Castle for the present.

DEELY-MIDDLETON CEREMONY IN RECTORY

Quiet but impressive was the wedding ceremony which took place Wednesday morning in St. Mary's rectory, when Rev. Fr. F. McCarty, united in marriage Miss Lois Ann Deely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Deely, of 106 West Wallace avenue, and Pvt. Thomas A. Middleton, of Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago, Ill. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh J. Middleton, Columbus, O.

Vows were exchanged before an embankment of palms and ferns, offset with clusters of white mums, with only the immediate families present. The double ring service was used.

A pouf of blue street length dress with matching accessories, and a corsage of orchids, was worn by the bride. Her cousin, Miss Joan Wadlinger, served as maid of honor. She selected a brown velvet street length dress with accompaniments to match. Her shoulder bouquet was of yellow roses.

Pvt. Dewayne Davis of A. and M. college, Texas, served as best man. Supplementing the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at a tavern in New Wilmington, appointments being in keeping with the occasion. A reception was later held for relatives and friends at the home of the bride's parents.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of New Castle high. She with the June class of 1942 and he with the June class of 1941. Mrs. Middleton has been associated with Mother Brothers for the past year. Pvt. Middleton, prior to entering the U. S. service, attended Bethany college at Bethany, W. Va., where he was a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

The couple are on a short wedding trip and upon returning he will depart for Chicago to continue with his duties and she will remain for the present with her parents in New Castle.

MARSHALL-FISH WEDDING IN CHURCH

An informal wedding took place Wednesday morning, November 3, in the First Presbyterian church, when Miss Anna Margaret Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Junkin Marshall, North Mercer street, became the bride of Private Russell Charles Fish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Fish, Youngstown, O.

Standing before the altar beautifully embanked with an arrangement of white mums against a background of graceful ferns, and palms, the couple exchanged vows at 10:30 o'clock in the presence of an assemblage of relatives and friends. The double ring service was used, with Dr. J. J. McVaine officiating.

A recital program of appropriate music was provided by church organist, Garth Edmundson, preceding and during the ceremony. For the professional, Lohengrin's Wedding March was played, and Mendelssohn was chosen for the recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of solid blue crepe and she carried a colonial bouquet of roses and mums. Her only jewelry was a pair of heirloom gold bracelets, a gift of the bridegroom. Mrs. John Brinton as matron of honor, was attired in a gray crepe gown. Her flowers were also fashioned in a colonial bouquet of assorted garden flowers.

Robert Erwin of Lewistown and this city, cousin of the bride, served as best man. Ushers included Robert, John and Charles Brinton, the latter of Clairton, and Walter Null, Salem, O., all cousins of the bride.

Following a congratulatory period, a reception was held in the Castleton hotel for sixty guests. A buffet lunch was served from a table appointed in the nuptial motif. Immediately following, the couple left for Scorro, New Mexico, where the bridegroom is stationed at the New Mexico School of Mines.

The bride is a graduate of New Castle high and attended Rhode Island School of Design. Pvt. Fish graduated from Raydon high in Youngstown, O., and attended the University of Arizona.

Present at the wedding from out of town were Mrs. Harold Walker of Columbus, O., Mrs. Howard McCray of Beaver Falls, Mrs. James Gaskell, Miss Esther Gaskell and Mrs. Thomas A. Wilson, of Ellwood City.

APCELLI-WOMER WEDDING SATURDAY

Miss Della Apcelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Apcelli of Butler avenue, has chosen Saturday, November 6, as the date of her marriage to Merle Womer, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Womer of Cascade boulevard.

The wedding will be at 9 a. m. in St. Vitus church, with Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita in charge. Miss Caroline Apcelli is her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids are Edith Womer and Eda June Antonio.

Mike Apcelli will serve as best man.

CRYSTAL VASES THAT MAKE FLOWERS ENVIUS

You have never seen Crystal Vases like these. They were designed to be different — and are!

Each is heavy, thick, massy crystal in smart unusual shapes. They're truly European in character, the newest note in continental fashions, but priced far less than imports.

Each crystal piece, hand-blown, is clearer than the clearest water, so lustrous, so reflective of light and color that each is beautiful even without a bouquet. With flowers each forms a rare composition of dazzling loveliness.

For your home or as gifts, you'll agree that there is nothing finer than these handsome Fostoria Vases. Or any more moderately priced.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

RESPECT FOR PROHIBITIONS

Thousands of toddlers who are spanked repeatedly and shouted at with No and Don't a hundred times a day, have little regard for these words. It is because these children are dull? Hardly, since the brightest youngster often is the very one most heedless of commands.

Let us go to the field to find an explanation. About four years ago I noted in this column that many farmers in recent years have hit on a very simple and economical device for keeping cattle in a small field. They run a single wire around the plot and charge the wire with a weak current of electricity.

Last summer, my neighbor effected such a device which I saw in operation daily. Though on previous summers, his cows were often breaking through the usual kind of fence and getting into my garden, there was not a single instance of their getting out last summer. The device looks so simple. The stakes are not much more than double in diameter that of a broom handle. In another plot he has contained a six-month-old pig with two wires strung low and that pig has never once got out, even into the adjoining corn field. In contrast to the fence advertisement we used to read in farm journals, "Horse-high, bull-strong, pig-tight."

Now the wise parents can keep a toddler in a plot, on the lawn without any visible wire at all. So also a child can learn to keep away from the gas jet or open fire without such a fence. The parent provides the shock in the form of a spanking. The pain therefrom need be no greater than the pig or cow received on touching the charged wire.

Are pigs and cows smarter than little children? Certainly not, nearly so able to learn. The wire and its electrical current, you see, are dependable. They give the shock instantly on the first "offense" and always thereafter, without exception. This principle applied in detail, in my special bulletin, How To Teach Tot Meaning of No, to be had for postage by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, New York, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Even the most careful parent is hardly as dependable as the charged wire of the pasture. Trying to train the child to avoid the gas jet, the insulated electric lamp wires, fire place or not to go beyond a designated boundary on the lawn, the parent almost never provides the shock on the first or even tenth "offense." Indeed, after the first spanking or slap on the hand, the child is allowed to repeat the forbidden experience 20 times, perhaps, before he gets another shock. Or, as in the instance of the toddler's running away, he may not get the shock until 20 minutes or more, after he is found.

The parent's aim is to make No the charged wire, but while No carries pain with it occasionally it carries many times more often has no "current" or has just a bit of harmless static in the form of a shriek to which the youngster soon grows hardened.

Q. My three year old son, after being punished, wants to get on my lap or hang on me. Should I allow him to do this?
A. Be too busy right then to show him special attention. Be generous with affection at other times.

Q. Many parents forbid the high school student with poor or passing grades on his report card to leave home, except for school, for several weeks at a stretch. Do you consider this a wise procedure?
A. I do not. A better way is to require this child to be home on nights before school and to do his home work each evening at a regular hour and place. My special bulletin, "Parents And The Child's Homework" may be had for postage by writing men in the usual way, not forgetting to enclose a three-cent stamp.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 5:56; sun rises tomorrow 7:32.

The Republicans have several good candidates for president. Picking one out will be the job.

We have noticed when couples live to be married 50 years they are happy—or sumpin'.

No doubt some of these days a big campaign will be put on to put a stop to the many evils we have to contend with.

"This is a wonderful suit of clothes I'm wearing."

"It looks like an ordinary piece of goods to me."

"What I mean is, the wool was grown in Australia, the cloth woven in New England, the thread was made in Britain, the suit was made in New York, and the merchant I purchased it from has his store in Harrisburg, Pa."

"What's strange about that?"
"Why, isn't it remarkable that so many people can make a living out of something that I've never paid for?"

Some people think the price of turkeys is too high. Well, we can get along all right without them if we have to.

The Japs have granted the Philippines their freedom—with a single reservation—that they had better not try to make use of it.

We hear lots of talk of more houses after the war. Is it for more people or better places for them to live in?

"What can you do as fullback?" the captain of a football team asked a new member of the club.
"Oh, passable," was the modest reply.

"Well, you won't do. We already have a full back who's passable. What we are looking for is one who is not."

And then there was the farmer who said he wouldn't mind the hunting season so much if there was just some way of equipping his cows with bullet proof vests.

A lot of people wonder why some people give so little to a good cause and we hear lots of talk about them.

Of course, we would not go so far as to say that most doctors are sadistic, but did you ever notice how they always try to find out what you like to eat best, and then tell you that is the very food you must avoid eating?

Winter, says grandpa, must be just around the corner. Today his neighbor returned his lawnmower and borrowed his tom-and-jerry mugs.

A representative government is one that elects a hundred men in favor of a thing and a hundred against it, and then wonders why something isn't done.

It is said that well fed babies would rather sleep than eat at night.

The only reason some people have for being against some other people is that they cannot run them.

There is a great shortage of pennies in this country. If you have any hidden away change them into other kinds of money.

So far we haven't noticed any let up on opposition to most everything.

Training the kids isn't so hard. Just be as honest and courteous to them as to adult guests, and they'll imitate you.

A new electric motor can lift a destroyer to the height of 15 stories. But can it open a railroad coach window?

In some states there is a low prohibiting hunters from carrying loaded guns in their cars. There is a good reason for that.

The division's chaplain was approached by one of his spiritual wards who was obviously a little overindulged alcoholically speaking.

"Chaplain," he said earnestly, "can you explain to me the difference between fundamentalism and liberalism in religion?"
"Tut, tut, my good fellow," replied the chaplain kindly. "You are intoxicated. If you will come to me when you are sober, I shall endeavor to explain the difference between fundamentalism and liberalism in religion."

After reading that too much cake is bad for the complexion, junior insists that the variety menu is of soap and not the baked kind.

Bank deposits in this country have increased over five billion dollars in the past year. People are making money and saving it.

You don't deserve any credit if you have to behave.

Growing old gracefully is largely a matter of not noticing how faulty and foolish the world has become since you were young.

In the old horse and buggy days few of us thought we would ever come to the time when we would eat the horse and feel a little buggy.

At Harrisburg over five million dollars has been set aside to remove the snow from the highways this winter. Must be expecting a lot of snow.

A motto seen in an office: "Think less of us and more of U. S."

Childish nagging at England serves no purpose. We should look after our interests as sensibly and efficiently as the English attend to theirs.

DO OPPOSITES ATTRACT
"What do you think of the theory that 'opposites attract'—that we are more likely to have a happy marriage if we marry our opposites?"—Lola M.

Answer: I think it is a lot of bunk! Why should a couple with barely an idea in common have a greater chance at happiness than those whose interests are similar?

That theory simply does not make sense! It seems reasonable that those with similar tastes and interests will gradually drift apart. For instance, what is there in a marriage between an intellectual man and a "bird-brain" woman, an athlete and a sedentary woman or a musician and a non-music-lover that could keep them together? After their physical attraction begins to decline, they will tire of each other and grate on each other's nerves.

A recent survey of three hundred engaged couples revealed that we are naturally drawn to those who are like us. In conventional, religious feeling, dependability, breath of interest and initiative.

We are all interested primarily in companionship and are drawn to people who like the same things that we like. Take the case of the old epigram: "Congeniality of principle is the cement of souls." Or to say it in the vernacular: Look for a man who speaks your own language.

Question: Please suggest the simplest kind of refreshments to serve after an evening wedding. We are having our families and only our very closest friends at our "furlough" wedding.—Ted.

Answer: Serve party sandwiches, coffee, wedding cake and, if you so wish, ice cream. If you prefer something more substantial, you might substitute chicken salad and rolls for the sandwiches.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Somewhere I read an interesting item about an experiment conducted on a frog.

The scientist put him in a kettle of cold water. The frog swam around a couple of seconds and then lay perfectly still.

Heat was applied very gradually. The water became warmer and warmer, but so slowly that the frog never noticed it. He just sat.

The water got hot and finally came to a boil. The frog just sat until he was finally cooked and passed out of the picture.

But he never knew it. Is it just barely possible that we humans are somewhat like that frog in the kettle?

Are we getting cooked and don't know it? I'm not saying—I'm just asking and wondering.

I leave prognostications, criticism and reform to other, much wiser men and women.

I'm just looking at life, and sometimes life seems mighty strange to me.

There seems to be an awful lot of inertia among us these days. I don't like inertia. It's like stagnation.

It's slime. It's foul. It smells. Dictators thrive on inertia. Politicians use it as their favorite tool.

Office holders stay on the job by taking advantage of it. Demagogues thrive on it. Poland, France, Holland—yes, and the United States show what inertia can do.

Pearl Harbor could never have happened if it hadn't been for inertia.

I don't think this crazy gas rationing system of ours could have gone into effect if we hadn't been too darn lazy to do something about it.

Oh, we do a lot of kicking, all right, but what else do we do? The water gets hotter and hotter and one of these days we'll be cooked and we won't even know it.

Democracy wasn't gained by just sitting. Freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of religion, didn't fall into our laps. We had to fight for it, every inch of the way.

Mind you, I don't blame politicians. If we are a bunch of easy marks and frogs and their racket is power and our money, why shouldn't they cook us to a frazzle.

I have no special sympathy with that frog, nor with myself for just talking and letting myself be cooked.

NEW DEAL VS. BUSINESS
The National Association of Insurance Agents held their forty-eighth annual meeting in Pittsburgh recently and John M. Thomas, President of the National Board of Fire Underwriters addressed the agents assembled on that occasion and warned them that the fire insurance business and everybody connected with it face demoralization and chaos if State regulation is nullified through application of the Federal anti-trust laws.

This is the brief history of the fire insurance anti-trust legislation which started in 1942 as presented by Mr. Thomas:

"In August 1942 the Federal Anti-Trust Division without warning suddenly announced a nation-wide criminal investigation of the fire insurance business. Then in November—three months later—an indictment of some one hundred ninety-eight companies and twenty-seven individuals were secured in the District Court of Atlanta.

"Since this initial action, the business has become well aware of the federal assault on the whole insurance industry. As a result, it has been established in this country. The Anti-Trust Division, while vigorously prosecuting its case in Atlanta, announced investigations in New York and California—both involving practically the same defendants and based upon alleged acts of those charged in Atlanta.

"In August 1943 the District Court at Atlanta held that the federal anti-trust laws did not apply to insurance, and dismissed the indictment. The Federal Anti-Trust Division has appealed to the United States Supreme Court.

"For more than seventy-five years the Supreme Court of the United States has repeatedly held that insurance may be regulated by the States. For more than ninety years the Insurance has been regulated by the States, each state acting in its own way to meet local conditions in the best interests of its citizens.

"State regulation has been accepted by the courts, all branches (Continued On Page Seven)

There is more than one reason for gasoline rationing on the home front. A primary reason, of course, is the use of gasoline in mechanized equipment on the fighting fronts. But there are a great many other military uses for gasoline.

Gasoline is used in field hospitals to heat sterilizers for surgical instruments, to light the lamps in tent operating rooms, and to power refrigerators in which blood plasma is stored.

It furnishes fuel for transport planes flying the wounded from field to base hospitals and in many instances to hospitals in this country.

Soldiers in the Arctic regions depend on gasoline for cooking and keeping warm and even mechanical dough-kneaders in field kitchens are run with gasoline.

This all-purpose fuel is put to hundreds of other vital uses and the list is expected to grow as the war goes on.

Report Marshall Will Go To Britain
Present Fighting Held But Skirmishes
Hospitals, Too, Found Users Of Gasoline

By HELEN ESSARY
Central Press Columnist
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. — By comparison with what is to come, the military operations of United States forces have only been brilliant skirmishes so far. The real mass fighting is to start in 1944.

Military timetables call for beginning the great Anglo-American invasion of Western Europe next spring or early summer.

Semi-official confirmation of these plans has already appeared in the Army and Navy Register, a usually reliable service publication.

The Register says Gen. George C. Marshall, who it appears, will command the invasion personally, will not go to Great Britain until some time after the first of the year.

"This," the publication says in its current issue, "is in accordance with the disclosures that the projected movement of forces from the British Isles to the lowlands and France will not be undertaken until some time in the spring or early summer."

Meanwhile, Allied commanders will step up the bombardment of Nazi industries, and military and naval installations, during the long winter nights. Enemy defenses will be weakened as much as possible before troops start across.

The Germans, naturally will have to guess the exact time and place of the invasion across the English channel.

But from six to seven months hence, the German defenders will be awakened by a pre-dawn visit of vast masses of American, British, Canadian, French and other troops.

The air war will have left black, smoking ruins along the stretches of continental coastland. The invasion will be protected by the greatest air umbrella the world has ever seen. The attack will be made under the most stupendous naval bombardment in history.

The Allied forces will suffer losses such as Americans have not been accustomed to since Petersburg—and the home front must be prepared for this. But Allied commanders mean to save all the lives they can by hitting the Germans with the most terrific array of mechanized killers that modern science can devise.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden are believed to have told Soviet Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov that spring or early summer will see the fulfillment of the "second front" commitment.

But the United States and British governments insist that the job is wholly military in nature, and that neither Russian desires nor American policies shall influence it.

Randolph Paul, general counsel for the treasury department, is talking freely of resigning after congress passes the tax bill now being prepared by the house ways and means committee.

Paul has borne the burden of presenting the administration's tax program to congress, and he is frankly tired of having these revenue proposals turned down.

His associates report that Paul's health is not too good and he doesn't feel that he can weather another stormy session before the highly-critical House of Representatives committee which considers the omnibus tax bill for 1944.

DRIVING JAPS FROM THE SOLOMONS

WHEN United States Marines dashed ashore on Guadalcanal in August, 1942, they wrote one of the great battle epics of their valiant history. It is appropriate that Marines again appear, in the latest landing on Bougainville, to set the stage for the final act of the Solomon campaign.

General MacArthur's ringing challenge to the Jap Navy to come out and fight at this juncture is not braggadocio. For one thing we're ready for it. For another the question is whether Japan can afford to keep its fleet in hiding any longer.

The inexorable advance of the Allies through the Solomons and on New Guinea does not alone threaten the imminent fall of Rabaul. It is only a question of time, and that not likely to be long, when our forces will be firmly established in a great arched springboard to strike at Truk or even at the Philippines.

Japan is confronted with the choice between the grave risk of a great Allied naval victory if she adventures her fleet, or of leaving the way wide open to our forces to strike deep and deadly blows into her South Pacific conquests.

The steady cleanup in the Solomons should terminate the long, wearisome delaying actions from island to island that have kept our full strength diffused. Whatever Tokio decides to do now, the time is near when we should be able to mass all our forces for devastating united action.

BOY FIREMEN

After eighteen months of testing, Kansas City is reported to be highly satisfied with its employment of 17-year-old boys to keep its fire department up to regular strength, according to a report from the International City Managers Association.

Recruiting the most husky specimens to be found, the firemen gave them the same physical examination and thirty-day preliminary training which all rookies receive. Then the boys were assigned to stations with three or four older men, at regular pay, and called upon to do all the jobs of firemen, from driving trucks to working in burning buildings.

No effort was made to hold the boys when they reached draft age, the place of these being called into service being taken by new recruits.

The director of the fire department admits that a tendency to playfulness and lack of dependability manifested itself in the case of a number of the boys, but he feels that a useful service has been performed in keeping the department up to required strength and in giving interesting work to boys who might otherwise have contributed to the problem of juvenile delinquency.

THE COMING YEAR

As the men in charge of foreign affairs for America, Britain and Russia plunge more deeply into a discussion of ways and means of increasing pressure on Hitler, a discussion confined largely to the war and not to the abstruse problems to follow it, they have the inspiration of the knowledge that during the past year the war has been going extremely well for their nations.

In that span the Nazis reached the high tide of their aggression and have fallen back. At Stalingrad the Nazis lost an army and following that loss they have been driven back almost without interruption in Russia. In a year the Nazis have lost not only vast expanses of territory in Russia, but all of North Africa, nearly all of their Mediterranean islands and a fourth of Italy, with Italy transplanted from Axis partnership to Allied co-belligerency. They are fighting on two fronts, with other fronts imminent.

Hitler has lost the battle of the Atlantic and the battle of the skies. The sea transport of the United Nations is at a new peak. Germans are watching with helpless misery the destruction of city after city by Allied air forces. The Nazi command is searching persistently but without much hope for the solid ground of a final stand that may be discouraging to the Allies.

All this has happened. The foreign ministers of America, Britain and Russia, with military men sitting in, have framed the events of the coming year. They are even more portentous for the instigators of world aggression.

WHY THEY FEAR THE RUSSIANS

British and Canadian prisoners who have returned from captivity in the Reich appear to come back with little to complain of in their treatment except as to food. Some say they might have been starved if it had not been for the Red Cross.

The Germans may say that food is scarce in the Reich, but that does not chime in with Goering's boasts.

The prisoners learned something

Governor Martin Predicts Victory For G.O.P. In 1944

Says Pennsylvania Will Go Republican; Sees Election Indications By Vote

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin predicted today that the Republican sweep in Tuesday's off year election points to a G. O. P. victory in next year's presidential campaign.

Simultaneously, Governor Martin discredited reports that he would be available as a presidential candidate in 1944.

"Pennsylvania will go Republican in 1944 and so will the nation," he declared. "The significance of Tuesday's vote is a Republican drift all over the nation."

The governor avoided discussion of the possibility that he would be a presidential candidate asserting: "I've got a job here at home and am not going to get worried about the presidency." He added that the G. O. P. "had plenty of good candidates."

The governor also disclosed that the state department had been considering various improvements in the plans for soldier balloting in an effort to influence a larger soldier vote. A new plan would require legislative action.

Governor Martin said he had not given "much consideration" to convening the general assembly for a special session next year because "nothing has come up yet to require one."

The governor emphasized, however, that his statement should not be construed to mean there would not be a special session. He hinted that the need of improving soldier balloting procedure may prompt an extraordinary meeting under certain conditions.

"Anything that will make it possible for more people to vote would be reason for a new legislature," he declared.

FOUR FLIERS KILLED

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 4.—(INS)—Four of the five crew members aboard an army bomber were reported killed today when their ship crashed near Benbrook, 15 miles west of Fort Worth.

The victims' names and the plane's home base were not immediately learned.

U. S. Propaganda Given Credit For Some Clever Work

Succeeded In Reaching Italian Fleet And Bringing About Surrender

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(INS)—American propaganda, according to a statement attributed to a British admiral, accomplished in a "single day" last summer what the British navy had sought for three years—surrender of the Italian fleet.

This was related by Robert E. Sherwood, director of the overseas branch of the office of war information, in testimony made public today in which he gained House appropriations committee approval of an additional $5,000,000 for his branch.

There is Sherwood's story as told to the committee:

"When the Italian government surrendered, it was obviously highly desirable to persuade the Italian navy to come over to our side, rather than to scuttle their ships or turn them over to the Germans."

"A message to the Italian fleet was drafted. It was to be broadcast over the United Nations radio in Algiers, which is a radio transmitter purchased in this country by OWI, installed in North Africa by OWI, and operated there largely by OWI personnel."

"It was considered problematical whether any considerable number of men on the Italian ships could hear this special broadcast, since there was a strict prohibition on all naval vessels against listening to any radio stations except those of their own government."

"This problem was solved by an OWI engineer. He managed to shift the transmitter in Algiers to the international distress frequency, to which all naval vessels of all nations are listening at all times."

"The special message to the Italian fleet was broadcast on that frequency. It was broadcast every 15 minutes for many hours. And it got through."

"When the Italian fleet steamed into Malta, Admiral Cunningham chuckled and said to his chief of staff, 'tell General McLure that they've accomplished in one day with propaganda what I've been trying to do for three years with the navy.'"

"The value of that one action can hardly be computed, either in terms of dollars or in terms of lives. The whole story of the Italian collapse and surrender is proof of the efficacy of our propaganda and the sound military and diplomatic policy which has guided it."

Nearly all learning benefits mankind; but except for satisfying our curiosity, what is the good of learning more about distant stars?

There are still communities, however, where you can guess which church a lady belongs to, if any, by the stories she tells.

Wagner Would Be Senate Candidate

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4.—(INS)—State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner offered himself today as a compromise Democratic candidate for U. S. senator, but said he was being "urged" to run for auditor general next year when incumbent F. Clair Ross must retire from office.

"A great many people throughout the state want me to be a candidate for auditor general to follow the general precedent and I think I may be," Wagner declared. "I don't want to discuss the senatorship too much but I might be a compromise candidate for United States senator if the Democrats don't agree."

Ross, who has announced his candidacy for the state supreme court, is prohibited from serving a second successive term by the constitution. A similar provision affects the state treasurer. If selected by his party, Wagner would be a candidate for the seat now held by U. S. Senator James J. Davis.

At 9:30 in the evening the Singing Band of Chicago, Ill., will sing in an open door program.

NEW BEDFORD

The young people of the local churches had a very delightful time on Friday evening when they held a party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theron Phillips. Games, music and a very tasty lunch were enjoyed, and later Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, a bride and groom, were given a surprise ride in a truck.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Zedaker have received the announcement of a grandson, born on November 1, to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weller in the Warren City hospital. He has been named Carl Rodney and weighs 10 pounds.

Splendid community spirit was displayed Saturday evening when the town folks, both old and young, responded to the Grange's invitation to a hallowe'en party. Families with their small children came masked, and after parading before the judges a number of prizes were awarded. The remainder of the evening was enjoyed in games and music, and later doughnuts, coffee and soft drinks were served. The Grange and its committee need to be commended for their effort, and it's to be hoped we may enjoy many other similar social events.

On the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary Mr. and Mrs. George Wortman were honored when two of their daughters, Mrs. M. Ventresco and Miss Nancy Wortman, Cleveland, entertained at a six o'clock dinner at Ravers, in Youngstown, Saturday evening. Special guests were Mrs. Robert McClenahan, Miss Sarah Wortman and Mrs. L. Hutchison, all of Youngstown. The honor guests were presented a number of gifts.

Miss Mary Grunnewald entertained members of the Friday Afternoon club at a one o'clock luncheon. Later three tables of cards were in play, with prizes going to Mrs. Glen Eppinger, Mrs. William Taylor and Mrs. Sam Beatty. Before departing the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grunnewald, Paul Edward, received a lovely gift in behalf of the club members.

On Tuesday evening, Nov. 9, the Garden club will hold their meeting with Mrs. Wylie Wallace. Mrs. Dave Zimmerman will have a paper on "Flowers and Plants of Alaska." Roll call, "Thankful for What?" Election of officers will be held.

The War Time Sewing group is in need of more patches for lap robes and asks that every woman make a special effort to find that old coat or other woolen clothes that are not being worn and bring them to the sewing on Thursday, where they will be made into robes to keep our injured soldiers warm. Fourteen robes have been sent in, and there are six knit sweaters ready to be sent.

Pvt. Dale Rogers has been transferred from Camp Pickett, Va., to Camp Lee, Va. He visited his parents Sunday.

Pvt. William Hanna writes from Sicily that he was very happy to receive his birthday box sent him in August, and sent his profile, drawn by a Red Cross worker.

Mrs. Mabel Hanna received a letter from First Lieut. Logan Weston, Southwest Pacific, stating he was well and was being transferred to an unknown base.

Mrs. Charles Paris has received word that her husband has landed safely in North Africa.

Sam Bridwell, of the Navy, has resumed his studies at Columbia university after a several days visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bridwell.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sheehy have received a letter stating that their son, Cpl. Jack Sheehy, has safely arrived in England. He is in the Air Corps.

AROUND CITY HALL

Members of city council today viewed the city's street department building, now under construction in Taylor street. The building is three-fourths completed and City Engineer John Z. Street certifying to this asserted Contractor E. F. Scanlon was entitled to an installment payment of $2,924.67. According to reports the concrete has not yet been entirely laid in the structure and the doors have not been installed. Being a steel structure (acquired from the Lehigh Portland Cement company) it is to be painted on the exterior, hence council's inspection prior to voting payment, a move suggested by Public Safety Director D. O. Davies.

Mayor Charles B. Mayne reported to council this morning police court receipts during October amounted to $1,155.05. Council adopted an ordinance today acquiring the Hanna plot along the Big Run which has been used for some time as a playground. Director of Parks Joseph D. Alexander has provided a new U. S. flag for Liberty park in the Seventh ward. Persons who handle food and beverages in public places are being examined, pursuant to ordinance, in the city health bureau. Such tests are required semi-annually. Affairs in the office of the city treasury appear to be proceeding normally again.

PICKETS AT AMBRIDGE

AMBRIDGE, Pa., Nov. 4.—(INS)—Strike pickets halted production at the National Supply Company's Spang-Chalfant Division plant for the second day today, preventing almost 3,000 employees from working on vital war orders. A company spokesman said the walkout was inspired by the discharge of a hot-mill employee, who was accused of fomenting a stoppage of work Saturday.

Union officials declared the dismissal was "indiscriminate," declaring the discharged employee was not responsible for the production delay.

Nazi-Jap War Machine Suffers Terrific Blows

Simultaneous Smashes Are Delivered In Both European And Pacific Theatres

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(International News Service Foreign Editor)

Irreplaceable components of the Nazi-Jap war machine lay in blasted and water-soaked wreckage today as a result of the heaviest virtually simultaneous series of attacks against the enemy in both the European and Pacific theatres.

The Nazi destruction was at Dusseldorf and Wilhelmshaven, while the Japanese wreckage was strewn about the placid waters of Simpson harbor, Rabaul. The Germans lost factories and the Japs lost ships and between them they felt in unprecedented strength the rising tide of Allied aerial might.

Winter Air Offense

It now is safe and reasonable to assume that the all-out winter air offensive against both the Germans and Japanese has begun. The Rabaul attack was the heaviest ever carried out in the Pacific, while the raid on Dusseldorf, coinciding with another onslaught against Cologne, was believed to have set a record in tonnage of bombs dropped.

Similarly, the gigantic American attack on the great Nazi port of Wilhelmshaven yesterday was the greatest ever made by United States planes operating from the British Isles.

Never since the war began have so many enemy targets in such widely-separated theatres been assaulted from the air at almost the same time. Never before has the Tokyo-Berlin Axis been blasted so thoroughly and successfully at both its ends.

In both the Pacific and European attacks, hundreds of planes participated.

Complete Success

Gen. MacArthur's attack, designed to smash any Japanese attempts to organize a large-scale counterblow to the expansion American drive in the Solomons, was completely successful. Twenty-six Japanese war craft were sunk or damaged and 108 Jap planes destroyed or probably destroyed.

And it was not only at Rabaul that the Japanese felt the blows of American might. The navy department at Washington announced the destruction of ten more Japanese vessels by long-range American submarines operating in the Pacific. This new tally raised to 487 the number of Japanese ships sunk, probably sunk and damaged by American undersea craft since the outbreak of war.

The Japanese at Rabaul made every effort in their power to stave off destruction from the skies.

Enemy opposition was heavy at Dusseldorf and Cologne as well, but the Royal Air Force losses were believed comparatively light.

While aerial activity throughout the world monopolized the war news, plodding infantry continued their feisty advances on far-flung battlefronts.

Shocking Waste Is Charged By U. S. Comptroller

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Comptroller General Lindsay Warren charged today that government department heads in Washington and elsewhere are guilty of "shocking extravagance to the point of rottenness."

Warren testified before a senate military affairs subcommittee on a measure which would permit advance payment of war contracts up to 50 per cent.

After recommending that the sum be limited to 75 per cent, he told the committee that he had cited 200 cases of administrative waste before house committees but could cite 2,000.

"The extravagance and waste is so shocking that it is rotten," Warren testified. "Yet much of it is legal and we can do nothing about it."

For instance, $3,500 was spent to send a box of nothing more than posters by airmail express when they might just as well have been sent by freight. They were not taken out of the box until a month after arrival at their destination.

Rt. Rev. E. P. Wroth Honored At Dinner In Trinity Church

Record Assemblage Turns Out To Welcome Bishop Of Diocese Of Erie And Wife

Nearly 200 members attended the annual parish dinner at Trinity Episcopal church guild room last night honoring the Rt. Rev. E. Pinkney Wroth, newly consecrated bishop of the diocese of Erie.

Bishop Wroth was introduced by Rev. R. M. C. Griswold, rector of the local church, following an address of welcome on behalf of the parish by Lloyd W. Strayer, senior warden.

The bishop in his address of the evening discussed the highlights of the 54th general convention of the church recently concluded in Cleveland, O. He stated there was aroused interest, increasing support and realistic recognition of opportunities in the work of the church in China, in rural America, among American negroes, in war industry areas, in Latin America and in the gigantic task of relief both during and after the war. He also told of rehabilitation when the peace comes. Bishop Wroth was accompanied by Mrs. Wroth, who was presented with a corsege by Miss Elizabeth Reis in behalf of the women of the parish.

Robert M. Garland, junior warden, officiated as toastmaster. The presentation of the "Every Member Canvass" was made by L. J. Lewis, parish chairman, who explained the local and national needs of the church and the importance of maintaining the work in spite of increasing war demands. The canvass begins next Sunday following a corporate communion and breakfast for the men of the church at eight a. m.

Rev. W. G. Woodward of St. Andrews, New Castle, who will be ordained at Trinity church on November 11, was introduced.

Pep singing during the evening was directed by Harry J. Cullford, with Miss Isabel Johnson accompanying.

The dinner was prepared and served by the Women's Guild, under the leadership of Mrs. J. C. Colgan, Mrs. Howard Kley and Mrs. M. A. Johnson.

Americans To Blast Rabaul Out Of Existence

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Nov. 4.—Lieut. Gen. George C. Kenney, allied air force commander in the southwest Pacific, said today that the key Jap base of Rabaul would be blasted by the allied air force until it "ceased to exist."

In an interview with International News Service, the hard-fighting, realistic chief of the fifth air force declared that Tuesday's victory when B-25 bombers blasted Rabaul harbor and devastated shipping there, was the "biggest thing that has happened in the Pacific since Pearl Harbor."

Rabaul Is Doomed

"This victory," he said, "definitely proved that whether the Japs know it or not, Rabaul is doomed!"

"It's doomed because we are going to blast it block by block. We're going to chase his shipping from the harbor, knock out his air force and burn every building in the area. We're going to tear the place apart and bury it!"

General Kenney pointed out that Rabaul, long Japan's main operational base in the south Pacific, is rapidly becoming a defensive base and that the recent heavy allied pounding had prevented the enemy from using his air strength offensively.

"For some time now," the fifth air force commander continued, "the enemy has been losing planes at a five-to-one ratio. That suits us fine."

Tuesday's blistering attack was made possible by the acquisition of island and other forward bases. The need for these bases from which the Jap strongholds could be saturated by air, has largely defined General MacArthur's strategy. His foresight is only beginning to bear fruit and from now on it will continue to do so increasingly.

Says Civilians Run Internment Camps In Far East

Americans Returning Aboard Gripsholm Tell Of Conditions In Camps

By JOHN SUTHERLAND
INS Special Correspondent

PORT ELIZABETH, Union of South Africa, Nov. 4.—Civilian internment camps in the far east are run as complete communities by the internees themselves as the Japanese leave them to their own devices after providing accommodation and supplies.

That was declared today by Americans returning to the United States aboard the Gripsholm.

All services including cooking, washing, sanitation, building repairs, schooling and administration of justice are carried on by the prisoners.

The internees are thus fully occupied and there is no question of idleness or boredom. The schools are staffed by professional teachers, mostly American and British, who use books salvaged from their former possessions. Regular examinations are held and diplomas awarded.

Care is taken in the teaching of history and political science, as some camps contain "Quislings." In one camp at Manila, a vigilance committee found Germans and Italians posing as United States citizens.

Royal Arch Gunnison, magazine writer interned first at Manila and later at Shanghai, said that American women did a magnificent job of running a communal kitchen and laundry. On the whole, he said, the women stood the strain better than the men.

Coal Strike Costs U. S. Forty Million Tons Says Ickes

Ickes Declares Both Sides Are Satisfied With Coal Wage Settlement

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Secretary of Interior Ickes declared today the coal strike cost the United States 40 million tons of coal and perhaps 45 million before production is resumed.

Ickes asserted that "both sides are satisfied" with the new agreement providing a 37 1/2 cents per hour pay increase for the miners and an addition of 15 minutes working time a day.

"Both sides are satisfied," he said, "and the miners are now drifting back to work. I think the clouds have lifted."

Ickes also revealed that he appeared before the United Mine Workers policy committee earlier today and warned them that "we must get more and more coal to boost the nation's coal stockpile."

Ickes said that the increased working time provided in the new contract will increase the price of coal to consumers but he didn't know just how much.

Major Henebry In Crash Sea Landing

Plane Lost Rudder Control After Sinking Two Jap Ships At Rabaul

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Nov. 2.—(Delayed)—The Mitchell bomber commanded by Maj. John Henebry of Plainfield, Ill., crashed in the sea off an allied advanced air base late today after participating in the Rabaul raid.

Henebry's ship, which sank two Jap vessels, lost its rudder control and use of the left engine over Simpson harbor during the attack but somehow the major was able to fight his way through the terrific cruiser and Zero fighter fire to a point somewhere over the Solomon sea. At this point Capt. Charles Howe of Ventura, Calif., observed Henebry's plight and gave him tail-turret support.

Henebry ordered everything removable dropped from the plane, including the parachutes of the crew. Somehow he managed to keep the ship up until he reached base where he was forced to crash land in the water.

"Pull alongside," was the order given by Henebry to a rescue boat. "I want to rescue the maps and films from the ship—it's in shallow water."

"Shallow, hell!" came a reply from the boat. "You're 80 fathoms of water."

Henebry immediately began to swim toward shore.

Major Henebry In Crash Sea Landing

Plane Lost Rudder Control After Sinking Two Jap Ships At Rabaul

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Nov. 2.—(Delayed)—The Mitchell bomber commanded by Maj. John Henebry of Plainfield, Ill., crashed in the sea off an allied advanced air base late today after participating in the Rabaul raid.

Henebry's ship, which sank two Jap vessels, lost its rudder control and use of the left engine over Simpson harbor during the attack but somehow the major was able to fight his way through the terrific cruiser and Zero fighter fire to a point somewhere over the Solomon sea. At this point Capt. Charles Howe of Ventura, Calif., observed Henebry's plight and gave him tail-turret support.

Henebry ordered everything removable dropped from the plane, including the parachutes of the crew. Somehow he managed to keep the ship up until he reached base where he was forced to crash land in the water.

"Pull alongside," was the order given by Henebry to a rescue boat. "I want to rescue the maps and films from the ship—it's in shallow water."

"Shallow, hell!" came a reply from the boat. "You're 80 fathoms of water."

Henebry immediately began to swim toward shore.

PETRILLO MAY APE LEWIS

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(INS)—James C. Petrillo, head of the American Federation of Musicians, took a leaf from John L. Lewis' book today.

Petrillo suggested that he might urge government operation of commercial radio networks if they insist on continuing the dispute over employment of musicians in the making of radio transcriptions.

Coal Strike Costs U. S. Forty Million Tons Says Ickes

Ickes Declares Both Sides Are Satisfied With Coal Wage Settlement

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Secretary of Interior Ickes declared today the coal strike cost the United States 40 million tons of coal and perhaps 45 million before production is resumed.

Ickes asserted that "both sides are satisfied" with the new agreement providing a 37 1/2 cents per hour pay increase for the miners and an addition of 15 minutes working time a day.

"Both sides are satisfied," he said, "and the miners are now drifting back to work. I think the clouds have lifted."

Ickes also revealed that he appeared before the United Mine Workers policy committee earlier today and warned them that "we must get more and more coal to boost the nation's coal stockpile."

Ickes said that the increased working time provided in the new contract will increase the price of coal to consumers but he didn't know just how much.

G. O. P. Leaders In State Enthused

Election Results In Tuesday's Balloting Show Victory Is Widespread

MAY BE FORECAST OF NATIONAL RESULT

By JOHN PAGET
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4.—Republican leaders throughout the state rejoiced today over the smashing pluralities scored by G. O. P. candidates in Tuesday's election and hinted the victories foreshadowed defeat for Democrats in the 1944 presidential election.

Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor said that by filling the county offices the G. O. P. "would be in good shape for 1944."

In the only sample of statewide competitive voting, the contest for an $18,000 a year superior court post, Republican incumbent Judge Claude T. Reno, of Allentown, rolled up a 300,000 vote margin over his Democratic opponent, Philadelphia Common Pleas Judge Curtis Bok, with only 336 of the state's 8161 districts unreported.

Half Of Vote Cast
Although about four per cent of the election districts had not been added to the statewide tally, it was apparent that only a little better than half of the 4,551,400 registered voters went to the polls. The judicial contest, showed 1,238,230 votes for Reno and 938,847 for Bok with the missing districts still to be added.

Bok swept Allegheny, Berks, Blair, Columbia, Elk, Fayette, Greene, Lackawanna, Monroe, Washington and Westmoreland counties while the remaining 56 appeared safely in Reno's camp. The Philadelphia jurist captured the same counties as well as Northampton in the primary balloting, with the exception of Blair and Columbia, but lost Northampton Tuesday.

In Philadelphia, scene of a bitter campaign, Acting Mayor Bernard Samuel topped New Deal Socialite William C. Bullitt by 64,197 votes as contrasted with Gov. Edward Martin's gubernatorial victory in that city of slightly more than 150 votes. The Republicans swept all row offices.

Routed In Allegheny
Republicans, however, were routed in Allegheny county where the Democrats won four of five contested judicial posts. Adjacent counties returned Democratic officeholders with sizeable majorities.

Strict organizational voting enabled the Republicans to capture 12 of the 21 judicial contests as well as 22 of the mayoralty elections—six held by Democrats. In Reading, Socialist former Mayor J. Henry Stump upset the Democratic incumbent, H. F. Menges, for another term as the city's chief executive while Democrats won a majority of the other offices.

In addition, the G. O. P. sent former speaker of the house Ellwood J. Turner and William H. Milliken, Jr., to the state house from Delaware county and continued to control the 23rd congressional district. D. Emmert Brumbaugh, Claysburg Republican, was victorious over Miss Edna Marsden, Democratic treasurer of Clearfield county, for the congressional seat vacated by James A. Van Zandt, of Altoona, when he was commissioned in the navy. Democrats, however, were victorious in a York county state senatorial contest. Guy A. Leader, York poultryman, defeated Henry I. Moul, York business executive, for the seat left vacant by the death of Henry E. Lanius, veteran legislator.

Although the vote was not decisive, voters apparently approved a constitutional amendment permitting the General Assembly to fix election district lines instead of the courts. Returns in about 75 per cent of the election districts gave the amendment approximately 142,000 votes to 113,000.

The voting was rounded out with Republican victories in hundreds of local elections throughout the state.

'PAPER DOLL' TO PAY $20,000 TO AGED MAN

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The hit song "Paper Doll" will pay off to the tune of $20,000 for John L. Black, the writer's 84-year-old father who is living on an old age pension in a Hamilton, O., boarding house, it was disclosed today.

Max B. Marks, vice president of the firm which holds publishing rights for the song written by the late Johnny Black in 1915, said the father already has received $1000 in royalties and will get at least $19,000 more.

Marks revealed that when the writer died in June, 1936, his estate was valued at but $100, despite success of his "Paper Doll," the hit of 1931. "Paper Doll" swept into popularity after being exploited by the Mills Brothers a year ago.

STAY A LITTLE LONGER

There are a lot of smiles about the court house today, hangovers from the results of Tuesday's election. The smiles indicate that the wearers will stay around the court house a little longer, about four years longer, each.

Oddly enough there won't be a new face in the court house when the oaths are administered in January. County Controller Frank W. Hill, who has been around the court house for eight years, goes over to the county treasurer's office. His deputy for eight years, Andrew M. Dodds goes in as county controller.

County Treasurer Earl R. Wimer, with four years occupancy already in, gets another four years as county commissioner. Commissioner George H. Bolinger, who has eight years back of him, gets four more of the same. Prothonotary and Clerk of Court John A. Edgar, with eight years in the office as prothonotary and clerk of courts, and five or six as deputy, gets four more in the top slot. County Commissioner Joseph F. Travers, one of the two Democrats in the elected list of officials in the court house, gets a second helping as commissioner. So they're all smiling and with good cause. Now all they have to do is go to work and do the job.

of the insurance business and the public as the proper and most effective way of protecting policyholders, and the public interest in insurance. Thus the business, conducted by thousands and thousands of local agents throughout the country, has been built to conform to the details of regulation by the various states after nine decades of well considered legal by-law-making and regulatory authorities.

Every State requires a license as a prerequisite to engaging in fire insurance underwriting. Every State has requirements aimed at maintaining the solvency of the fire insurance companies licensed by it. Every State reserves the right to invoke or refuse to renew any license granted by it.

"The States also have sought to obtain uniform policies in the interest of promoting uniformity in all details of the insurance policy. Today thirty-two States prescribe standard forms of policies which must be used.

"Fire insurance is not a community or manufactured product. The universal law governing commodities—the law of supply and demand—is not applicable to the fire insurance business. The public interest lies in making sure not only that premium rates and the like are uniform and fair to the premium payer, but also that they are adequate to protect the solvency of the companies in the interest of the policyholders. Otherwise there would be no fire insurance."

The office of the Attorney General of the United States is kept very busy harrassing the legitimate businesses of the country with lawsuits, notably the prosecution of not only the ones referred to by Mr. Thomas, but the one against the Associated Press.

It seems to be influenced by the New Deal.

YOU'VE GOT TO KEEP UP APPEARANCES—AND THINGS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—American women—next to more food, fuel, and better transportation—want elastic.

They want it for their girdles; for garters; for scarves and panties for women and girls; and for shorts and drawers for husband and son.

That's what the Office of Civilian Requirements says it found after a preliminary survey among women at home and in factories in every state.

The queen ant of Australia's white ants frequently attains a length of four inches.

School Children Need Tasty Lunches

STATE COLLEGE, Nov. 4.—With Old Man Winter on the way, more and more mothers will have to pack lunches for Johnny and Betty to take to school.

Such lunches should not be composed of whatever leftovers are found in the refrigerator, extension nutritionists of the Pennsylvania

State college warned today. Instead they must look appetizing, taste good, and furnish nourishment for work, play and growth.

Specifically they recommend inclusion of four foods:

1. A nourishing beverage, such as milk or fruit juice, or soup. A hot drink for cold weather is suggested.

2. Sandwiches made of enriched white bread or whole grain bread, one with meaty filling and one that is crisp or sweet. Be sure to spread the filling to the edge of the bread and to leave it moist and well-seasoned.

3. A vegetable, such as crisp raw carrot or turnip sticks, a cabbage wedge, or a tomato.

4. Something to satisfy the sweet tooth, such as fresh or dried fruit or a simple cake, cookie or pudding.

There were 76,704 idle or abandoned farms in the United States in 1940.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 4.—(INS)—Alf M. Landon, Republican standard bearer in 1936, today hailed Tuesday's election results as a stinging rebuke to the New Deal.
"The people are tired of New Deal promises and want results," Landon asserted.
"The returns are a strong manifestation of the swing to the right which first became apparent last November. It is the result of failure of the New Deal to make good on its glittering promises."

NAZI REPORTS OF AIR RAID RESULTS

LONDON, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Robert Ley, Nazi labor front leader, authorized the publication of a statement that 2,000,000 of 92,000-000 apartments in Germany had been completely destroyed by Allied air raids, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Zurich said today.

The statement revealed that 22,000 bodies were dug out of the ruins of Hamburg alone. Far greater casualties must be expected since rescue workers have found it impossible to open up many shelters buried in debris, it was said.

A Stockholm dispatch to Reuter's quoted an item in the Social Demokraten reporting that more than 1,000 persons were killed in the American raid Tuesday on Wiener Neustadt, Austria.

House Committee Moves For Economy

Seeks To Have Huge Unexpended Appropriations Put Into Use

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Long-moaning congressional sentiment for economy exploded into the open today when the House appropriations committee slashed a billion-dollar supplemental budget program by 82 per cent and sent the measure to the floor containing only $167,000,000.

Designated the "first supplemental national defense appropriation bill" for the 1944 fiscal year, the measure carried extra funds for nearly two-score government agencies allied with the war effort.

Noting that virtually every one of them sustained heavy cuts, Committee Chairman Clarence Cannon

(D) Mo., hailed the economy move as a "milestone in the history of congressional appropriations."

"It is the heaviest reduction ever made in a general appropriations bill by the committee on appropriations," Cannon said in a formal statement. "It is believed the bill as reported reflects the sentiment of the country favoring curtailment of federal expenditures to the irreducible minimum."

Chief feature of the committee's action was an opening move to recapture a substantial part of 60 billion dollars in war funds previously appropriated by Congress but as yet unobligated and unspent by the war agencies.

To tap this huge pool of money for the first time, the committee disallowed a $750,000,000 budget request by President Roosevelt for the navy's stock fund and directed that a transfer of the money be made from unexpended balances instead.

Constituting the largest single reduction in the budget estimates, this alternative was decided upon by the committee after consultation with Secretary of Navy Frank Knox who approved.

MT. JACKSON U. P. THANK OFFERING SERVICE PLANNED

Thank offering service at Mt. Jackson U. P. church, sponsored by the missionary societies of the church, will be held Saturday evening, November 6, at 8 o'clock at the church.

Mrs. John John P. White of Pittsburgh, editor of the Women's Missionary magazine, will be the speaker. As this is Mrs. White's first appearance here a large attendance of members of the congregation and their friends is anticipated.

Bomber cameras are synchronized with bomb release mechanisms so that the bombs can be photographed at every stage of their flight, and by means of a flash bomb the target is illuminated at the precise moment when they strike.

GOVERNMENT OF BADOGLIO FACES POLITICAL CRISIS

Nazi-Controlled Vichy Radio
Broadcasts Report King
Abdicates

By MICHAEL CHINIGO
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NAPLES, Nov. 4.—That the political crisis facing the government of Marshal Pietro Badoglio was rapidly drawing to a head grew more obvious today as he attempted subtle overtures in an effort to achieve a coalition among leaders of the various liberated sections of Italy.

(The Nazi-controlled Vichy radio broadcast a flat report today that King Victor Emmanuel had abdicated. While there was no confirmation of this report in London, informed quarters in the British capital stated that in view of the growing crisis in Italy, an abdication was possible before the week's end.)

Badoglio's first move was to send a proposal to King Victor Emmanuel that the prohibition of political parties be revoked, which would allow various factions to meet and work out their own governmental program "as a preparatory step toward formation of a definite coalition."

His second overture was directed to the Allies. Badoglio called attention to the disinclination of prominent Italian leaders to participate without reservations even in a coalition which had as its sole aim the liberation of Italy. Badoglio asked guidance on the arrangement originally offered by him.

Badoglio did suggest, however, one exception to the original armistice arrangement—that he would resign as soon as the Nazis are expelled from Italian territory.

Badoglio said that while awaiting response to his overtures, and in view of the obvious difficulties of equipping an army of sufficient size to enter the fighting front, he was doing preliminary work on organization of a volunteer corps.

War-weary Italian soldiers would thus be weeded out and the numbers of weapons which the Allies would have to supply would thus be appreciably limited.

Catholic Women Plan Day Of Recollection

C. D. Of A. Study Club Is Sponsoring Event At St.
Joseph's Nov. 11

Arrangements are progressing for the Day of Recollection to be held for the Catholic women of Lawrence county at St. Joseph's church on Thursday, November 11, sponsored by the C. D. of A. Study Club.

The day will start with holy mass and communion at 8 o'clock, the Rev. Fr. Francis C. Streiff, pastor of St. Joseph's church, as celebrant.

Breakfast will be served in the social rooms of the church following mass and the first conference. Rev. Fr. John M. Unger, assistant pastor of St. Joseph's church, will be in charge of the four conferences to be given during the day.

At noon the group will be served a tasty lunch in the social rooms, and following the afternoon services will get under way.

It is expected that quite a large group of Catholic women will attend the Day of Recollection, and according to reports, reservations are rapidly being received.

At 3 o'clock the Day of Recollection will come to a close with a Holy Hour, conducted by Rev. Fr. Francis M. McCarter, pastor of St. Mary's church, and chaplain of the C. D. of A.

Mrs. Mary Maher and Clare Duff are in charge of reservations, to be in on or before Monday, November 8.

Kiwanians See Airplane Film

'Cannons On Wings' Shown
Members At Luncheon
Meeting Wednesday

New Castle Kiwanis club members had the privilege of seeing the picture, "Cannons on Wings," which was shown through the courtesy of the Bell Aircraft Corp. of Buffalo, N. Y., depicting the various processes in making the famous Aircobra fighting plane widely used by Allied fighters.

Plans were outlined at this time for the joint meeting with the Rotary and Lions clubs next Wednesday, when Kiwanis will be host. The speaker on this occasion will be Wheeler McMillen, noted authority on chemistry, as related to production of crops by use of chemicals.

The committee planning arrangements for Ladies Night later in the month also met.

Guests of the club were Pfc. Jack Potter, son of Kiwanian Orville Potter, home on leave from Smyrna Army Air Base, Tennessee, and Martin Andrews.

Sharp Stiffening Of U. S. Attitude On Argentina Is Seen

Treasury Department's Action
Gives Insight Into Program
Of Uncle Sam

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—A sharp stiffening of the American government's attitude toward Argentina was foreseen today in diplomatic circles in Washington.

The treasury department's action in blocking the transactions in this country of two of Argentina's biggest banks was viewed diplomatically as the imposition of virtual financial sanctions against Argentina.

However, Argentine assets in the United States as a whole have not yet been frozen. Whether the American government will resort eventually to this drastic step depends on the extent to which it considers Argentina is directly or indirectly aiding the Axis war effort.

The two banks which have been affected by the freezing order are El Banco De La Nacion and El Banco De La Provincia De Buenos Aires.

This government's justification for freezing the assets of those two banks is based on the fact that both of them have extended credits to firms which are on the American blacklist. The blacklist is intended to block American trade with Latin Americans who are known to be engaged in transactions with the Axis Nationals or their agents.

One of the banks also made an interest payment recently to Germany on Argentine bonds held by German citizens.

Both banks are closely associated with the Argentine government.

Wayne W. C. T. U.

The Wayne Women's Christian Temperance Union is sponsoring a special service on Sunday, Nov. 7, at 8 p. m., at the Shippery Rock Presbyterian church, Ellwood City, for the benefit of their religious education fund. The speaker will be Rev. J. W. Gladden of the First Methodist church, Ellwood City, who is the newly elected president of Ellwood City's week day Religious Education Association.

All locals in the county are invited to attend, especially those who sponsor Bible instruction in the public schools.

WOMEN WORE THE HELMETS

15 Years Ago—

They were made of felt, of course, not steel. Styles were different then, with indelible lipstick and zippers newly invented. Janet Gaynor was the bright new star of the silent screen, and Helen Wills was queen of the tennis courts.

Fifteen years—and lots of changes! You can't remember them all. Here's one you probably didn't know was happening: During those fifteen years electric rates were coming down and down. Maybe you haven't kept track of those reductions because all the time you were adding new appliances—and enjoying more electricity—to make living easier and more pleasant. But it's a fact that today the average American home gets about twice as much electricity for its money as it did fifteen years ago!

You've helped make that electricity a bargain because, by using more, you've made economies possible. But the men and women of your electric company—under experienced business management—are also responsible. By their efficiency and dependability they've made it possible for you to get friendly service, cheap!

REPUBLICANS WIN IN WESTERN PENNA.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Western Pennsylvania Republicans scored impressive gains in the election, late figures revealed today.

The G.O.P. advance was evident even in such Democratic strongholds as Fayette, Westmoreland and Washington counties.

Republicans were in the majority on the board of county commissioners in Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Lawrence and Venango counties, besides having captured other important positions.

GIRL SCOUTS

Latest Offensive Move In Pacific Analyzed

(General MacArthur's offensive actions in the Southwest Pacific are discussed in the following article by Major Paul C. Raborg, noted military analyst and author of "Mechanized Might.")

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
Written Especially For International News Service

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The landing of our Marines at Empress Augusta Bay, midway on the west coast of Bougainville, northernmost of the large Solomon Islands, shows clearly the pattern of General MacArthur's three pronged assault by his eastern pincer arm against the great Japanese base at Rabaul.

This latest combined sea, land and air attack at Bougainville must be regarded as part and parcel of the previous Allied landings on Mono and Sterling Islands of the treasury group, just to the south of Bougainville. And included in that three-pronged assault is also the landing of the parachute troops on Choiseul Island to the southeast of Bougainville.

All three operations are part of one offensive of considerable proportions and they will almost necessarily precipitate Japanese air and naval action against us on a large scale than anything which occurred during the fighting for Guadalcanal.

The latest MacArthur attack against Bougainville has by-passed at least two Japanese sub-bases, one on Shortland Island and the other at Buin on the southern end of the island of Bougainville. Japanese armed forces on those two bases must be reinforced or they are trapped. It is doubtful if they can be successfully evacuated since they are now literally surrounded by Allied land positions. And of course added is General MacArthur's challenge to the war lords of the empire of the Rising Sun to send out their navy and fleet.

Rabaul, on the northern point of the island of New Britain, is the main Japanese base for the district that is made up of eastern New Britain, New Ireland and the northern Solomon Islands. Without doubt Rabaul is supplied from the great Japanese base on the island of Truk, some 800 or 900 miles to the north. The commanding general of the southwest Pacific must have considered that the first step towards his capturing Rabaul was to encircle the island of New Britain with land-based planes within an effective fighter range. That objective is now accomplished. His western arm of the attack is at Finshhafen, less than 70 miles across the Dampier strait from the western end of the island of New Britain.

Other portions of the western pincer are on the Trobriand Islands about 160 miles south of the center of New Britain, and also on Woodlark Island which is 240 miles from the south center of the same island. Now his eastern arm of attack has advanced to Empress Augusta Bay about 200 miles from the eastern edge of his objective island. In other words, as soon as airfields are captured or completed at Empress Augusta Bay, General MacArthur, with his most skillful assault, will have completely encircled his enemy.

Just as soon as Rabaul is cleared of enemy troops, General MacArthur's command will be in a position to assume offensive action westward on a much greater scale. His operations are perhaps being time-tabled to coincide with at least two other great major assaults against the empire of the Rising Sun.

Hard Coal Miners To Return To Work

Eighty Thousand Are Scheduled To Resume Anthracite Production

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Nov. 4.—(INS)—Eighty thousand Pennsylvania anthracite miners were slated to return to the mines today and bolster wartime production in the wake of the government's seizure of the mines for the second time this year after workers refused to work in an unofficial protest against a 32 cents an hour wage boost approved by the War Labor Board.

Fuel Co-ordinator Harold Tekes announced the government had assumed operation of the mines and fixed a basic wage of $8.50 a day for the miners. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, appealed to the men to return to their jobs.

Coal officials agreed, however, that even if the miners go back to their jobs today, it will take until early next week to spur production to levels recorded prior to the work stoppage last Friday. More than 300 operations have been closed in the anthracite area.

GRANT CITY

Word has been received here concerning a former resident which reads as follows: "Award of the Air Medal to Sgt. Richard Phillip Walker for meritorious achievement while participating in anti-submarine patrols in the Caribbean theater, with the possibility of encountering fire from enemy ships," was announced from Antilles air command headquarters. Sgt. Walker received the medal for 200 hours flying time on operational missions, and also some of these flights were made when flying conditions were hazardous.

Those from this vicinity to leave soon for service are Clarence Hunt, Navy; Fred Dean, Marines; Mike Durash, Army; Mike being the fourth member of Dudash family to serve his country. Corp. Patrick McCormick, Jr., of Washington, D. C., spent the week-end at the home of his parents here. Other members of the family present were Mr. and Mrs. Walt Grommes and two children, Mrs. Helen Coast and children, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Holmes and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chigula.

District Meeting At Mt. Jackson

Sabbath School Association Group Will Have Program Sunday

Arrangements have been completed for the annual convention of the Mt. ## Students Receive Tin Can Insignia

Sunny Avenue 'Tin Cannoneers' Given Emblem Of Rank On Wednesday

"Tin Cannoneers" of the Sunny Avenue school are proudly displaying their insignia today, from private to lieutenant-colonel. On Wednesday the Sunny Avenue tin can collectors were given the insignia, the first school in Lawrence county to get them.

Eighty boys and girls were presented with insignia. Of the 80, 34 were privates, fifteen corporals, thirteen sergeants, 6 second lieutenants, 1 first lieutenant, 4 captains and 7 lieutenant colonels.

Something unusual developed in the presentation of the insignia. Four of one family were found to be lieutenant-colonels and of the four, two are twins. They are Frances Schantz, Shirley Ann Schantz and the twins, Clara and Carol. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Schantz of Union township.

Sunny Avenue school children are enthused over the collection of tin cans. Under the supervision of Principal Arthur Turek a closely knit organization has been effected and the war effort is going to get a lift from Sunday Avenue this school year.

Republicans Win Two Offices In Pittsburgh Race

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Latest figures today made definite the Republicans' indication of unexpected victory in the race for two important offices in Tuesday's elections.

District Attorney Russell Adams (R) and County Controller Robert G. Woodside (R) had pulled through the Democratic sweep, and the Republicans were confident that Samuel D. Foster (R) would overcome the early lead Anthony J. Gerard (D) had gained in the battle for recorder of deeds office, especially when the soldier vote is tallied.

New Mayor Takes Post In January

Few Changes In City Administration To Occur—Four Councilmen Are Veterans

CITY DEPARTMENT HEADS UNCHANGED

When John F. Haven, mayor-elect subscribes to the oath of office and takes over the reins of the city on the first Monday in January he will act as president of an experienced council, two of them having been re-elected and the other two being hold-overs.

Those who were re-elected are D. O. Davies and Albert A. Hoyland and those who have two years yet to serve are Councilmen Joe Alexander and James Gibson.

When Haven takes the oath and council organizes he will direct the department of public affairs which includes the police force, and legal department.

Hoyland will continue to direct the finance department and assessment bureau.

Davies will continue to direct the department of public safety which contains the fire department and motor shop.

Alexander will continue as head of the department of grounds and buildings, and act as purchasing agent.

Gibson will continue as the director of streets and public improvements.

Bernard N. Hanlon, newly elected will be the treasurer for the city and also the tax collector for the city and school.

S. D. Lockley will continue as city controller. He did not come before the voters this year.

Haven as had previous city hall experience having been the chief of police during the administration of Mayor Charles B. Mayne in the 1932-36 administration. Mayne was elected in 1940 and will retire from office January 4. No doubt he will carry on his private business but will not seek office again he stated recently.

When January 4 arrives all of the "elects" will gather in council chambers, city hall. Mayor Mayne will direct the city clerk to call the present council to order after the mayor-elect, city treasurer-elect and the two incumbent councilmen. Davies and Hoyland, will receive the oath from Mayor Charles B. Mayne.

After this step has been taken the mayor will step from his chair. Haven will take his place. Davies and Hoyland will be in the chair they have occupied for years. The new mayor then will have the city clerk call the body to order and the first business of the new administration will get under way.

Revival Services

In Coaltown Church

There will be a series of revival meetings at the Coaltown-Walmo Free Methodist church, Maitland Lane, beginning Sunday, Nov. 7, and continuing every night, except Saturday at 7:30. The newly appointed pastors, Rev. and Mrs. O. C. Thrall, who have been engaged in evangelistic work the past few years will be the evangelists. Messages on the following subjects will be included in the series, which will be announced from time to time. The sin of unbelief; the antichrist spirit; "Mark of the Beast"; second coming of Christ, with chart; scriptural divine healing, etc. Mrs. Thrall will give illustrated messages on the "Tabernacle in the Wilderness," heart talks to the young people, with other interesting messages.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 46 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Repatriates Tell Of Jap Conditions

Opinions Of Returning Americans Differ As To Japanese Attitude

ASSERT JAPAN STILL TOUGH NUT TO CRACK

By LESLIE STEYN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PORT ELIZABETH, Union of South Africa, Nov. 4.—Harrowing tales of conditions in Japanese prison camps and enemy-occupied territory continued to pour from the lips of repatriated United Nations citizens today as the S. S. Gripsholm prepared to depart for the United States.

Many of the repatriates declared "Japan is still a tough nut to crack," but others reported Japanese civilian feeling has swung from wild jubilation at their early victories to a fatalistic decision to die fighting.

Emily Hahn, well-known New York authoress who was interned at the fall of Hong Kong where she was teaching in a university, described the Japs as "bad winners and worse losers." She said: "After the fall of Hong Kong all blackout precautions were removed and the Japs said the war now was over."

But adversity which struck Japanese ambitions soon made them gloomy, she said.

"Whenever their set-back at Batavia was mentioned in Jap society there followed an embarrassed silence," the authoress declared. "The Japanese is a mental extremist and anything adverse has the strongest reaction. . . . The loss of Attu was a most severe shock to them. It is difficult for Americans to comprehend unless they understand the intensity of Japanese conceit. Attu is but the smallest spot on the map, but it was Jap territory and it was lost."

During 1942-43, the death rate for all causes in the army in the United States was lower than any during the history of the army.

Japanese Ideas

"Some Japanese public opinion believes Japan will own the world in a year and after the present war will have to fight Germany whom they feel let Japan down at Stalingrad."

Other Japanese believe that the war will last another 10 years and that America is eager for a compromise peace. Even the most pessimistic believe that if Japan does not win this war, she will win out in the next 100 years anyway, Miss Hahn said.

Grant White Corby, of Los Angeles, formerly of the Philippine government petroleum survey, said "Japan will be a tough nut to crack."

"The Japanese are conducting a vigorous anti-Anglo-American campaign, particularly in China," Corby said.

Paul F. Kops, of Lawton, N. D., a lawyer who lived 13 years in Shanghai, expressed the opinion the Japanese suffer "an inferiority complex." He said the Chinese are "our good Allies and deserve a maximum of support."

Gen. Morris Abraham Cohen, the London White Chapel Jew who saved the life of Sun Yat Sen and later became a Chinese warlord, diplomat and financier, lost 80 pounds in weight during his imprisonment. The Japanese once put a heavy price on his head.

F. F. Sullivan, a Canadian, described the prison camp at Hong Kong as "the worst in the Far East."

"Only one consignment of Red Cross parcels arrived last year," he said. "While in Mornungao on the voyage over to pick up the repatriates, however, the Gripsholm discharged 60,000 cases of Red Cross parcels addressed to Hong Kong."

SELLS STOLEN SUGAR

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Selling stolen sugar without receiving ration coupons today had cost Fred Johne a fine of $250 after he pleaded guilty in federal court.

Johne was accused of taking 3,000 pounds of sugar from a wholesale firm and selling it to Saul Blatt, a grocer, who also had been fined for his part in the transaction.

The air liner of the future will quite likely have two or three decks, instead of the present one.

PLAN MARKER FOR EAST SIDE HEROES

Committee On Honor Roll Decides To Erect Permanent Memorial To Those In Service

At the meeting of the East Side Honor Roll committee, comprising the districts in the third and fourth wards not previously covered, it was planned to erect a permanent stone monument in Jackson park, which lies along the lower side of East Washington street, between Oak and Chestnut streets.

For the present, a glass-enclosed case will be placed on the monument, containing the names of the men and women from that district in service, and after the close of the war a bronze tablet will be placed on the monument, which will serve as a permanent record of those who served their country.

Jack Dunlap is chairman of the general committee and the districts which will be included will be the first, second, third and fourth precincts of the third ward and the second and third precincts of the fourth ward. Mrs. Jacob E. Emery was named treasurer.

The territory included in the above district will be solicited by a group of women for funds and for the names of those in service during the coming week.

A construction committee, consisting of Joseph A. Reeher, Lawrence A. Quelli and Charles E. Patterson, was named.

Anyone who is missed during the solicitation can leave the names of men or women in service with Mrs. Catherine Christofor, phone 6210.

Service Men's Dance At Ecclesian Club

Dance Event Scheduled For Saturday Evening, Nov. 6

On Saturday evening, November 6 at 8 o'clock, the Catholic Ecclesian club and priests of St. Joseph's church, in cooperation with the local USO, will sponsor a dance for the service men.

The congenial dancing partners will be the young ladies of St. Joseph's parish, and the young ladies of the Ecclesian club, from the various Catholic parishes.

Chaperons at the dance will be officers of the Ecclesian club and their wives.

The women of the Ecclesian club will also assist in serving of refreshments. A committee of young ladies will decorated the dance floor in the colors of the flag.

During the evening's entertainment small tokens will be awarded to service men who are the best dancers.

The music at the dance will be provided by a group of local talented musicians.

Miners Are Slow To Resume Work

Expect Return Movement To Be In Full Swing By Tomorrow

NORMAL PRODUCTION EXPECTED MONDAY

Only a small portion of the nation's 440,000 striking coal miners was on the job today under a new working agreement in which the men were ordered back to work by the United Mine Workers of America.

The difficulty of notifying the miners and holding immediate union meetings to act on the wage agreement caused a delay in the back-to-work movement which was not expected to get in full swing until tomorrow.

Full production to replenish the dwindling supplies of coal for the nation's huge war plants was expected to be reached by Monday.

In executing a "satisfactory wage agreement" with the government, through Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes, UMWA President John L. Lewis ordered the miners back to work "at the earliest possible moment."

Most of the miners who reported for work yesterday, the deadline set by President Roosevelt's executive order which authorized the seizure of the mines for the second time in World War II, were members of the Progressive Miners of America, AFL.

Cripple War Effort
Miners still were idle or operating with skeleton crews today in most of the major coal producing areas of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Alabama, Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Virginia, West Virginia, Oklahoma and in the Far West.

Except for a few mines operated by the PMWA, virtually all the

BOUGAINVILLE ISLAND WHERE YANKS HAVE INVADIED

THIS MAP shows the location of Bougainville island, where American air, naval and amphibious forces have combined to invade Empress Augusta Bay on the western coast. The Allied move threatens to unhinge the entire Jap position in the Southwest Pacific. Empress Augusta Bay, which is 260 miles from the Jap base at Rabaul, New Britain, flanks all of Japan's airdromes on the southern portion of the island. Bougainville island is 115 miles long. It is studded with enemy airdromes. (International)

THE MARTIN MARS, the United States Navy's new huge cargo plane, is pictured here as the great air vessel ground out a non-stop test flight of 34 hours 17 minutes. Though not shooting for any marks, the plane broke seven records and could have continued. The closed course flight was equivalent to an air jaunt from New York to Berlin. The Mars will carry personnel and critical supplies to vital areas. It is said the mammoth flying boat can carry a heavy cargo load to any port on earth in less than five days. ### MISSIONARY MEETING

The Mary James Missionary society of the East Brook U. P. church met at the home of Mrs. Margaret Patterson Tuesday evening with 17 members and two guests answering to roll call.

The devotional part of the meeting was conducted by Roberta Shellenberger. The theme was "America of Tomorrow", with the topics being covered by Dorothy Smith, Lois Shellenberger and Emma Boyles.

Dorothy Smith, president of the society, had charge of the business meeting, at which time plans were made to pack a box of used clothing for the mission school at Ezel, Ky.

The December meeting will be held at the home of Lillian Edie, which will be the annual Christmas meeting, with a tureen dinner and gift exchange.

Say Thousands of Sufferers

Choking, gasping, wheezing, recurring attacks of Bronchial Asthma ruin your sleep and rob your blood of vitally important oxygen because you can't get air in and out of your lungs properly. But now it is no longer necessary to suffer from these terrible attacks without the benefit you may receive from a physician's prescription called Mendaco.

Within a very short time after the first dose, Mendaco ingredients start circulating thru the blood, thus reaching the smallest as well as the largest Bronchial tubes where they usually quickly help liquefy, loosen and remove thick strangling mucus (phlegm), thereby promoting free breathing and more restful sleep. In fact, Mendaco has proved so successful in helping thousands of sufferers from recurring spasms of Bronchial Asthma that it is sold under a guarantee of money back unless completely satisfactory. ## DRAFTES PAY DEBTS; THEN ENTER SERVICE

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa.—Pennsylvania draftees have taken to praising the Lord before they begin to pass the ammunition, according to conscience fund contributions to the Pennsylvania highway department.

Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer disclosed that during the past month $25.75 has been sent to him by draftees who want to "square things with the Lord" before going into the army. The money was sent to compensate for thefts of departmental supplies.

The largest contribution was of $20 from a soldier-to-be. He wrote: "If everyone would encourage people to make things right with God the ones who really want to feel free in their souls would not find it hard to do."

The first letter accompanying a restitution of $4 for 20 gallons of gasoline stolen five years ago, stated that:

"I want to get square with the world before I go to the army. Praise the Lord."

Count On Stand Denies Murder

Defense Is Now Under Way In Sensational Trial At Nassau

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NASSAU, Nov. 4 — Count Alfred De Marigny took the witness stand in Nassau Supreme Court today to deny before judge and jury that he murdered his multi-millionaire father-in-law Sir Harry Oakes.

It was a dramatic moment when the young defendant, accused of bludgeoning his wife's father to death and attempting to destroy his body by fire, stepped from the prisoner's cage and walked to the witness box.

He was dressed in a blue suit, a cream-colored shirt and blue tie.

The Hon. Godfrey Higgs, chief defense counsel, immediately began the questioning.

Speaking in a firm voice with a slight French accent, De Marigny said he was invited for the first time to a party at Oakes' mansion Westbourne by Lady Oakes in December, 1941.

His present wife, Nancy, also attended the party. De Marigny testified he had met her before this occasion and that they were friendly.

The count, in response to Higgs' questions, stated that he was born on the Island of Mauritius March 29, 1910, and first visited Nassau in December, 1930. He testified that Lady Eunice Oakes invited him frequently to her home and during these visits "I came to know Nancy well."

As the count began to speak, the capacity crowd which jammed the courtroom strained to catch his every word. Outside, scores of standers crowded around the open windows, peering in to watch and listen to the proceedings. The courtroom itself was filled an hour before Judge Sir Oscar Daly mounted the bench.

Among the spectators was Mrs. Paul Ellis, formerly Jessie Oakes, sister of the slain man.

War Plant Now In Charge Of Students

(International News Service)
CHICAGO—One of the latest wonders of the all-out-for-victory drive is the Midget Manufacturing Co., operated by high school students.

The company, inspired by Junior Achievement, a group organized to give young people a chance to study business methods at first hand, is manufacturing pants hangers for the army.

Operating under a subcontract, Midget is assigned to turn out 150,000 hangers within two months.

Bill Nicol, 14, president of Midget, said the company had turned the manufacture of pants hangers into a science with the help of the Calumet high school woodworking instructor, who acted as technical adviser, and the Auburn Park Lions club, the company sponsors. Three subsidiary companies have recently been organized at the school, he added.

Work is done in shifts from 3 to 9 after school and on Saturdays, with none of the 60 employees working more than 12 hours a week. The wage for officers and employees alike is 35 cents an hour.

GREAT VICTORIES WON IN RUSSIA DECLARES STIMSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. — (INS)

Secretary of War Stimson declared today the Allies have won two great victories in Russia during the past week, the most significant being the success of the Moscow conference.

The result of this meeting, the war secretary told reporters in his weekly news conference, was definitely stimulating to the Allied democracies and most depressing to the Axis.

The recovery of the Crimea promises to be of great value to the Soviets, he said, in that it will be useful for airfield purposes.

On the Italian front, the war secretary stated that progress by British and American troops had been hampered by rain.

Within a few days, Stimson said, the first anniversary of the landing of American and British troops in North Africa will be celebrated.

"Today, the enemy has been expelled from Africa, the Mediterranean has been opened and Italy has surrendered."

Yesterday American planes carried out the heaviest air operations in history, he said. More than 1,000 U. S. planes took part in raids over Wilhelmshaven, destroying German industrial facilities, and leaving a depressing effect on the German people at large.

In the South Pacific, Stimson reported that the Japs have suffered heavy losses from Allied raids on Rabaul. Hundreds of Jap planes and vessels were destroyed—and at a time when they were preparing to attack us in the Solomons.

Stimson lauded new conquests in the North Solomons in battles led by Gen. Douglas MacArthur. He pointed out that victories in Treasure Island and Bougainville were the most important.

Banking Coke Oven Program Is Halted

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 4. — (INS)

Resumption of coal mining today halted a program of banking coke ovens which began Monday when the United Mine Workers' policy committee failed to act in the mine strikers' wage controversy.

Coke manufacturers, upon hearing that the United Mine Workers had approved a new wage agreement with the Federal government, immediately revised their "cut-back" schedules, and again coal is being poured into the ovens.

The "cut-back" was made necessary by the strike's threat to cut off coal supplies completely. Coke ovens must be kept hot. Once they are allowed to cool their refractory linings crumble and the ovens must be rebuilt.

More than 23,000 doctors, 8,000 dentists, 4,200 chaplains and 12,000 former officers have been appointed army officers from civilian life.

WAYNE, Pa., Nov. 4.—(INS)—Fifteen-year-old Leonard Marcus wanted in New York for questioning in the slaying of his 75-year-old step-grandmother, was taken into custody by Radnor township police today.

Marcus and a companion were picked up in Wayne, a mainline suburb of Philadelphia, by a suspicious patrolman who saw them wandering about aimlessly. The other youth identified himself, police said, as Melvin Rudnik, son of 2752 Wallace avenue, Bronx, N. Y.

A police captain said Marcus admitted slaying his aged step-grandmother, but that no charges had been placed against either youth. Both are being held for New York authorities.

Search for the 15-year-old boy centered in the Philadelphia area after his father, Abraham, received a telegram from the Quaker City. The message purportedly said:

"I'm sorry for what I have done." The boy had been missing since his step-mother, Mrs. Anna Marcus found the body of her mother, Mrs. Jennie Flicker, in their Bronx apartment. The aged woman apparently had been strangled with a pillow case.

VOTING MACHINES TO BE INSTALLED IN PINE TOWNSHIP

MERCER, Nov. 4.—Election in Pine township will use voting machines when they go to the polls next year.

The use of voting machines in the future was approved at Tuesday's election by the following count: Yes 342; No 189.

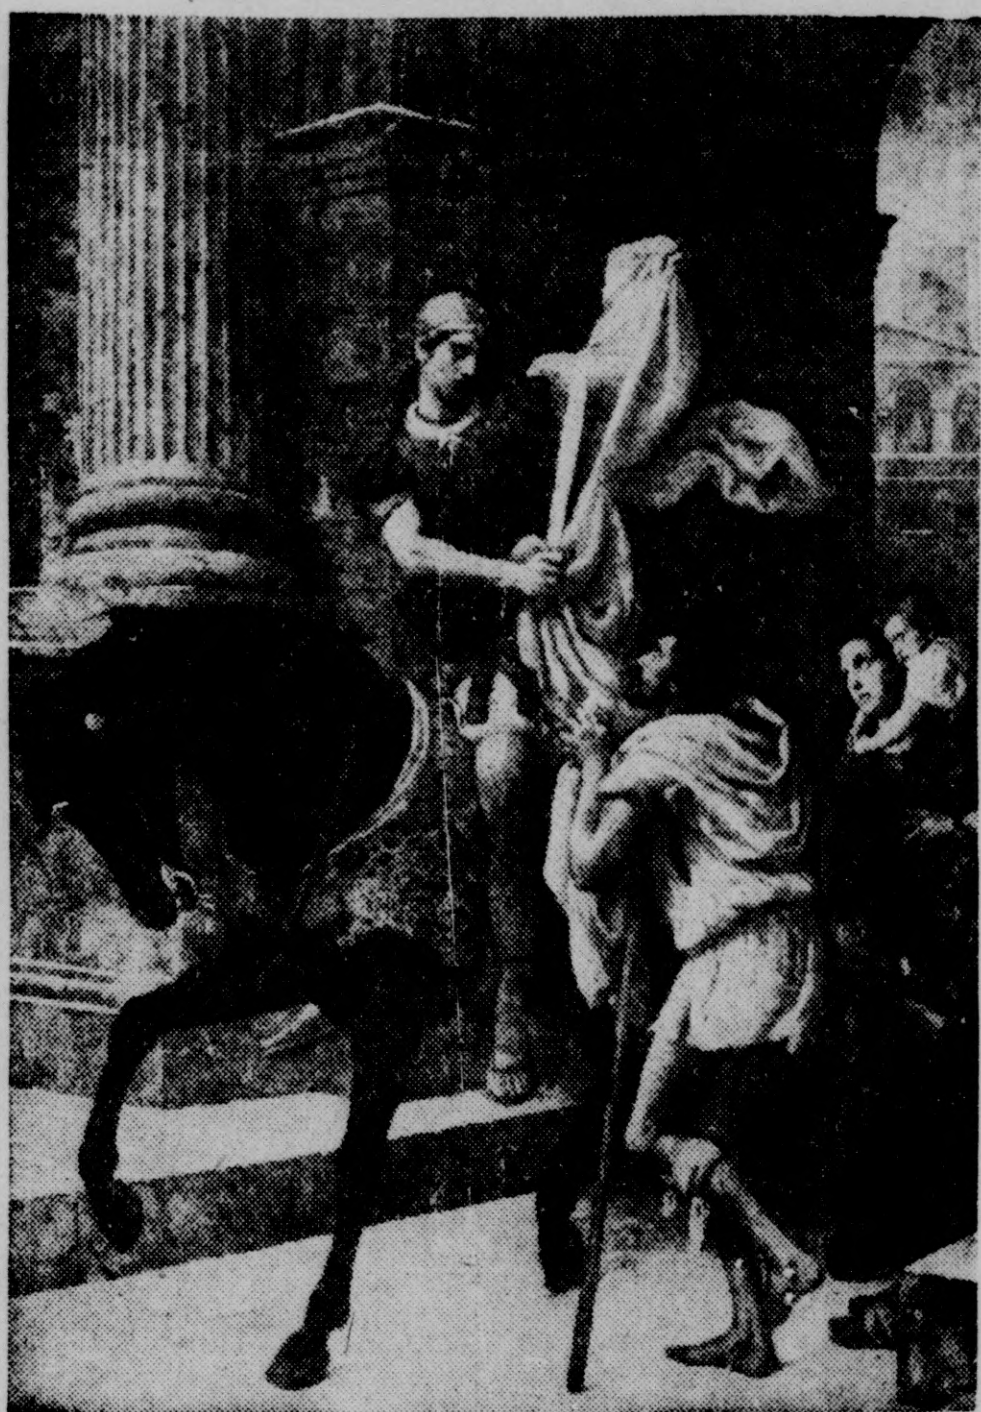

Tabulation of county returns frequently has been held up by the tardiness of Pine township election officials in reporting the vote at Mercer. In the September primary the Pine township returns were not reported until 30½ hours after the polls closed.

There are 827 registered voters in the township.

"Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer."—I John 3:15.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for November 7 is Exodus 20:13; Matthew 5:21-26, 38-45, the Golden Text being I John 3:15, "Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer.")

"Thou shalt not kill." This commandment, given over 3,000 years ago, was made to protect human life. If every man's hand had been raised against every other to kill, the earth would soon have been depopulated. The human being is a personality. It is a crime to destroy a being made in his Maker's image; the commandment seems to say, "Turning to Matthew 5:21, we read:

"Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment: 'But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment; and whosoever shall say to his brother, 'Raca,' shall be in danger of the council; but whosoever shall say, 'Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire.'"

This saying of our Lord's soars high above the flat statement, "Thou shalt not kill." It touches a new development in ethical thought and conduct. Not only shall we not kill our brother's body, and his life, but we shall not allow ourselves to grow angry with him, to hurt his feelings, to call him names. One who does so is almost as bad as a murderer, because in his extreme anger he no doubt wishes this person at whom he is so angry was indeed dead. The word "Raca" is thought to be a term of angry contempt.

Conveys Settled Hatred The word "fool" seems to convey a fixed and settled hatred. This writer remembers, when a child, hearing two brothers quarreling, the quarrel reaching its climax when one called the other a fool. Very quietly Mother said, "The Bible says, he who calls his brother a fool is in danger of hell fire." That word of anger was seldom or never heard in our family again as long as I was at home.

If you take a gift to the altar, said Jesus, and while there remember that your brother hath sinned against you, leave your gift immediately and go to your brother and make things right with him. Only then will your gift be acceptable to God.

"Agree with thine adversary quickly, while thou art in the way with him," before he takes his case into court and you become enemies or you have a judgment delivered against you.

"Ye have heard that it hath been said, An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth:

"But I say unto you, That ye resist not evil; but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also.

"And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloak also.

"And whosoever compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain. Give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away.

"Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbor, and hate thine enemy.

Love Your Enemies

"But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you.

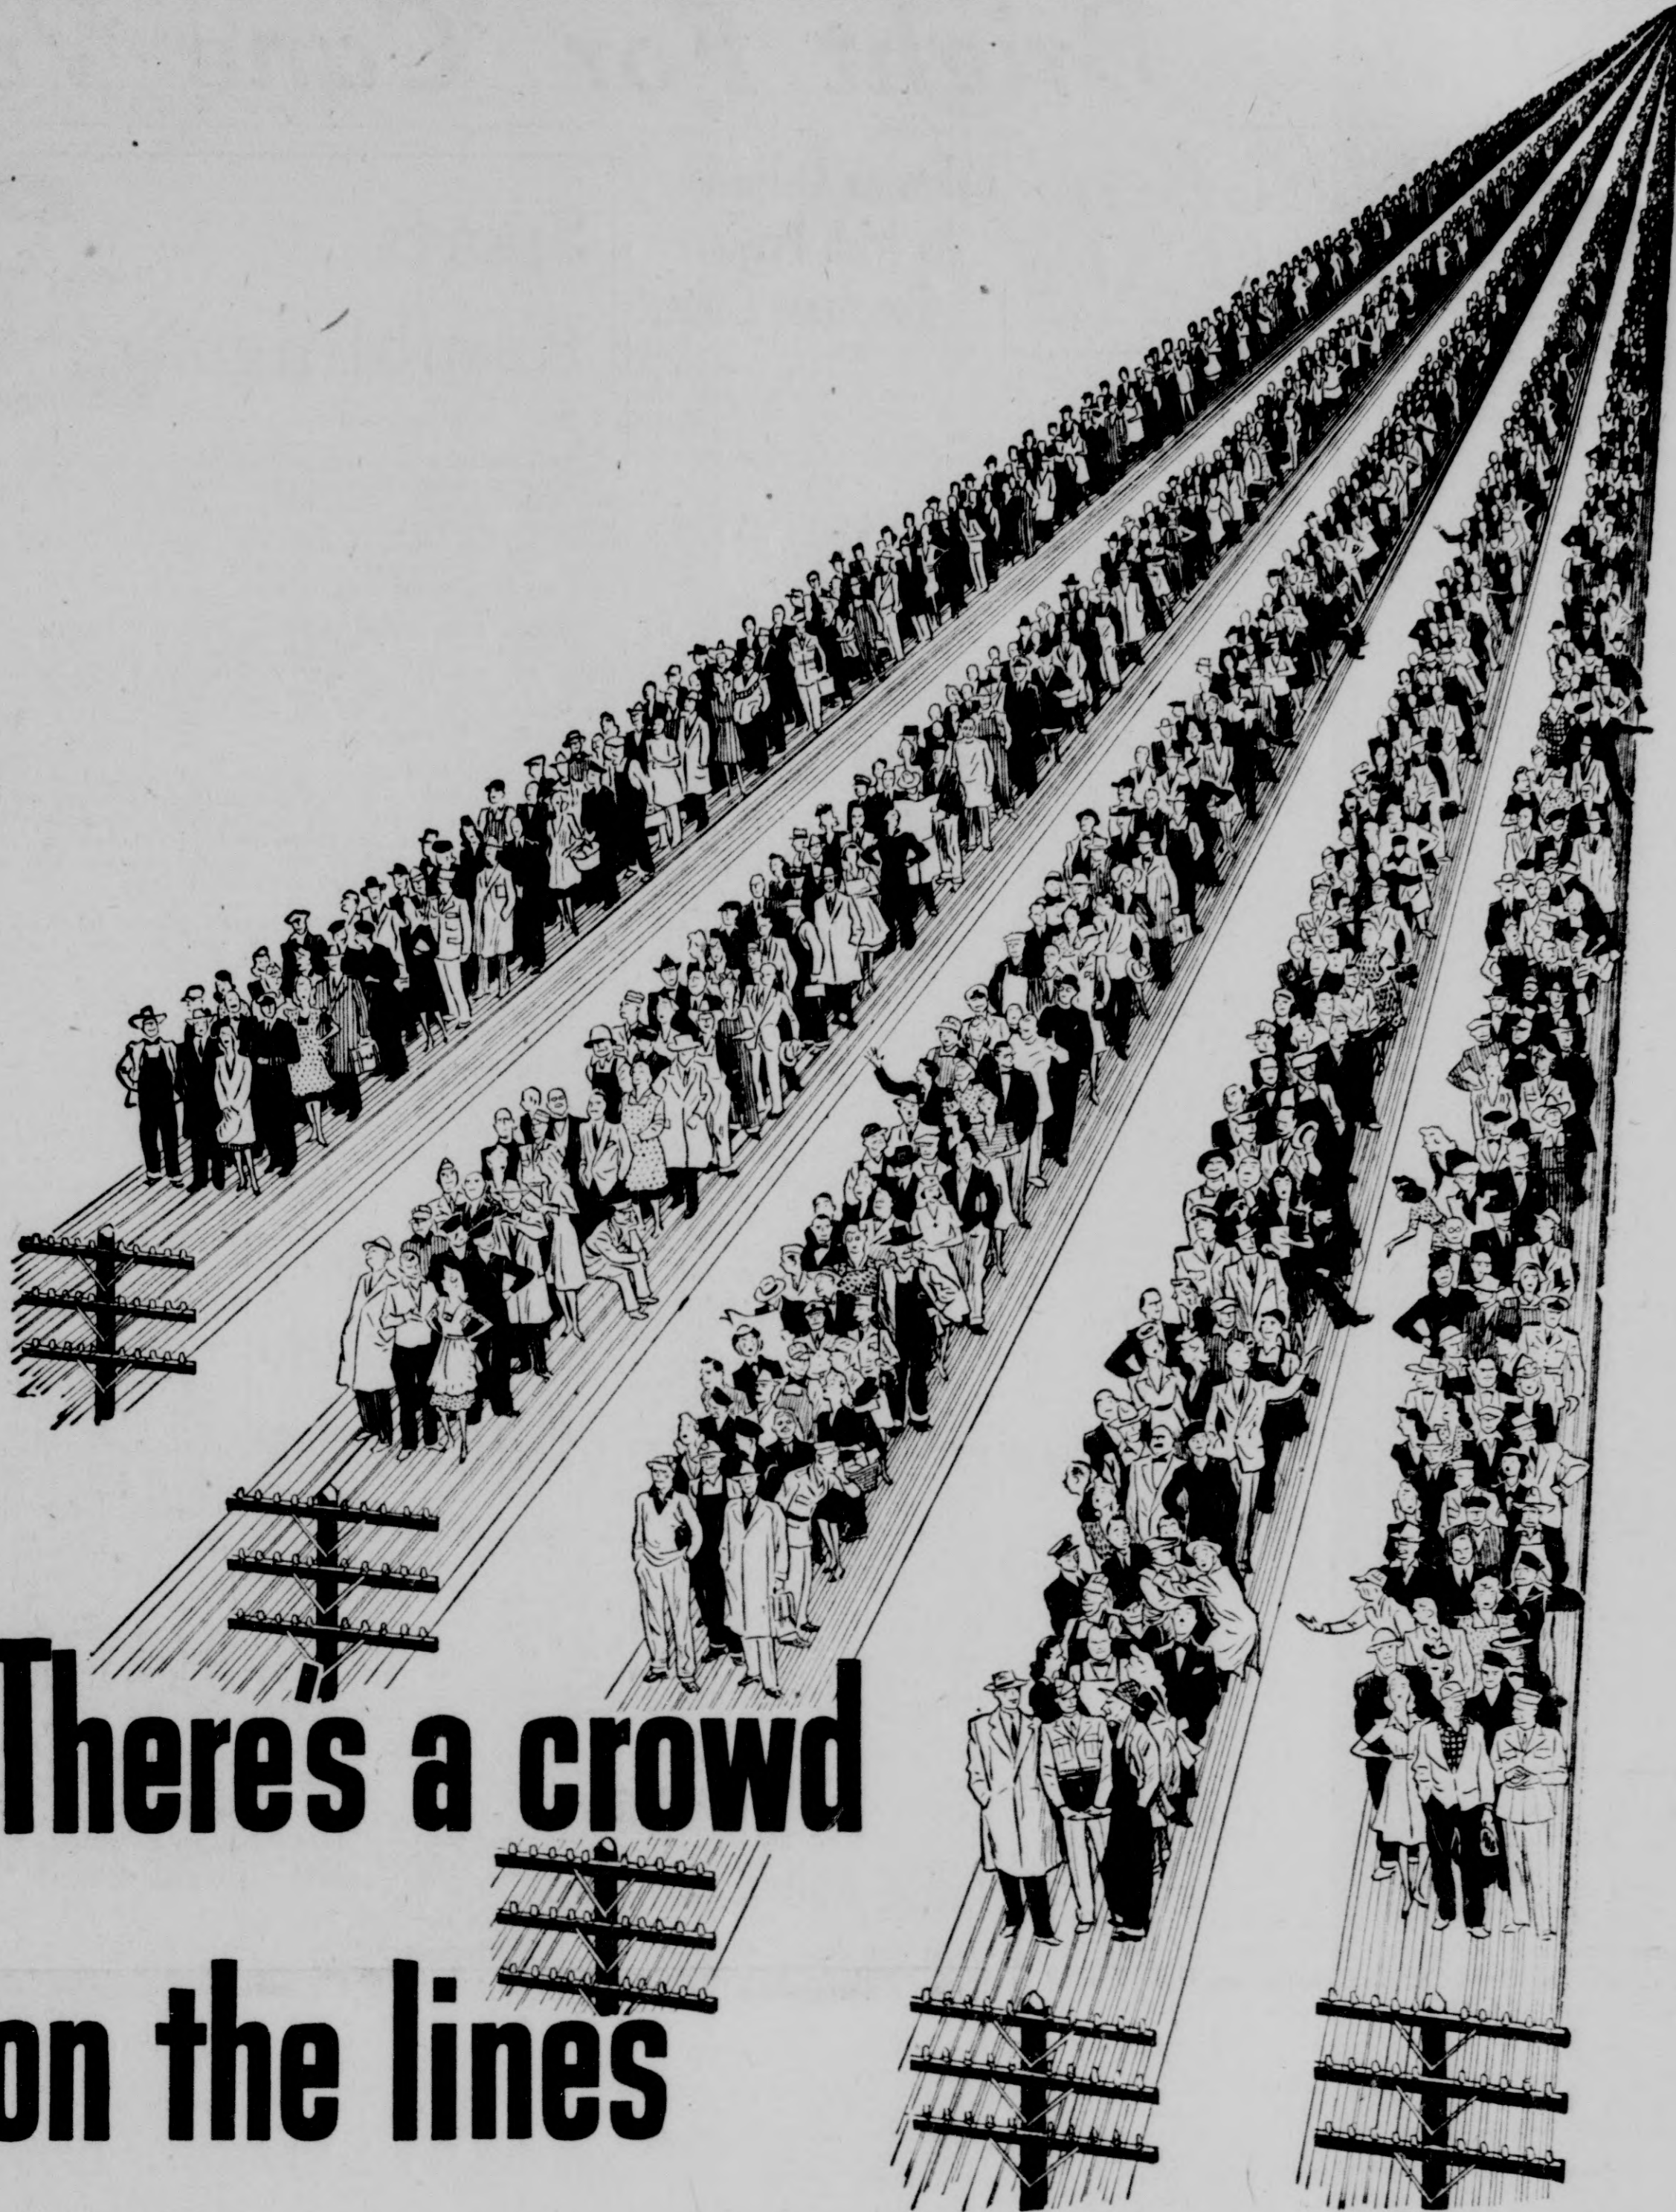

"That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for He maketh His sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust."

We should learn these passages by heart, and they will recur to us when we need them most and bless our lives if we strive hard to live by them. All through life we shall meet people who seem to us evil, or at least full of faults—even as we are. They may insult us in the way the slap on the cheek was once considered a deadly insult to be wiped out in blood in a duel. If we turn the other cheek, as it were, maybe we can shame them and make them realize how unmanly they are and how much at fault.

Without anger we should give up our cloak when our coat is taken; go another mile when we are forced to go one. If people don't like us we should try to see the good in them, and do good to them, striving to turn the hate to love. This will we feel ourselves children of the Father.

This does not prevent our anger from flaring up at wanton cruelty, persecutions and aggression. We will fight for others—for our homes and loved ones, and our native land if they are assailed. But not with vengeance; and after the battle we will do all in our power to help make and preserve a lasting and just peace.

Prospects Bright For 'Cane Victory Over Aliquippa

Rivals To Clash Here Friday Night At 8

New Castle Set For Ninth Battle Of Season; Fans Show Interest

Prospects were bright today for New Castle as they and black clad gridsters completed drills for Friday night's date with Aliquippa high under Taggart stadium's lights. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

The spirited 'Cane's sped through a scrimmage session yesterday afternoon and displayed a lot of finesse. Coach Phil Bridenbaugh seemed pleased with the showing of his cohorts and expressed himself as being confident that "the boys" will win their seventh victory of the season."

Roussos Still Out
New Castle's first team lineup placed Lengyel and Newman at the wings. Lucidore and Sanfilippo at tackle, Joseph and Izzo at guard. Robert Preston at center. Williams and McKee at halfbacks. Lieberman at quarter and Ted Lewis at fullback.

In all probabilities, this team will answer the kickoff whistle. Star Tackle Mike Roussos, laid up with a dislocated right shoulder, is a doubtful starter. He will probably watch his mates in action.

The locals are not underestimating the Quips and plan to spring a few plays in hopes of recording a triumph. In practice sessions, the 'Cane has tried new formations and are ready to unfold the unexpected.

Forgetting last week's upset at the hands of Beaver Falls, Aliquippa is ironing out the wrinkles in its attack. The Quips, a few observers report, lost to the Falls because they were looking ahead to the New Castle game.

Aliquippa hasn't forgot last year's 25-0 setback in the class AA WPIAL championship fray and hopes to gain revenge. Carl Aschman's strategies are in top condition and have loaded their double wing attack with lots of dynamite.

New Castle and Aliquippa will be meeting for the fifth time in a series dating back to 1929. The 'Cane hold a 3-1 edge and are favored to out the turf with their fourth conquest.

Fans Show Interest
Fans are displaying lots of interest in what should be a thrill packed engagement. Ticket Manager Robert Mills reports the advance sale as "surprisingly large" and predicts one of the largest crowds of the season, provided the weatherman cooperates.

Both teams have been eliminated from the WPIAL race. That, nevertheless, hasn't removed too much lustre from the attraction.

Coach Lou Little Still On Sidelines

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Gilman Kraft probably will play both wing and fullback for Columbia at Dartmouth Saturday. Otto Apel is expected to alternate with Kraft. Coach Lou Little, still laid up with sinus trouble, again may not be able to accompany his men when they go to Hanover.

Only 15 Teams Unbeaten, Untied

With Turkey Day rapidly nearing, a certain sign that football is on its way out, only 15 college-service teams can boast of unbeaten and untied records.

Rubbed out of the class last week were Army, tied by Penn; Penn, deadlocked by Army; Navy, walloped by Notre Dame, and Tulane, tied by Southwestern.

The unbeaten, untied circle:

Team	G	Pts.	O.P.
Purdue	7	193	48
Notre Dame	6	261	31
Iowa Seahawks	6	158	52
Southern California	6	93	0
Randolph Field (Tex.)	6	163	0
Franklin-Marshall	5	97	24
Colorado College	5	129	27
Cape Girardeau (Mo.)	5	118	7
Bainbridge (Md.) Naval	5	213	7
Bunkerhill (Ind.) Naval	5	115	37
Doane (Neb.)	4	115	28
Washington	4	150	32
Arkansas Aggies	4	110	32
Pittsburgh (Kas.) T.	3	86	7

Major teams unbeaten, but tied, include Army, Pennsylvania, Tulsa and Texas Aggies.

Louisiana State's track and field triumph in the spring of 1943 was its twelfth in the Southeastern Conference.

Rykovich At Home As Irish Prepare For Army Contest

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 4.—(INS)—The continued absence from practice of two key backfield men forced Coach Frank Leahy today to make some shifts in the Notre Dame backfield in preparation for Saturday's game with unbeaten Army.

The two aces are Julius Rykovich, No. 1 right halfback, and Vic Kulbicki, No. 2 fullback. Rykovich still was at his Gary, Ind., home suffering from a stomach ailment. Mystery surrounded Kulbicki's absence. He was given leave to go to his St. Paul, Minn., home, but failed to return.

Gordon Changes Mind; Will Play

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 4.—Second Baseman Joe Gordon, of the New York Yankees, changed his mind again today and announced he would play baseball next year.

But he still doesn't like the idea of going East for spring training. After returning from the world series recently, Gordon said he probably would not report for spring training next year. What he meant, he said today upon his return from a hunting trip, was that he believes there may not be any spring training.

Indiana Passer Tops In Big 10

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—(INS)—With Touchdown Tony Butkovich gone from Purdue and Bill Daley departed from Michigan for more serious service with the Navy the Big Ten football conference scoring race developed today into a free-for-all.

Now, the field is left to Elroy Hirsch, another Michigan backfielder, with four touchdowns, and boys like Hoernschmeyer, of Indiana; Pines, Indiana, and Dimanche, of Purdue. Each has crashed the last chalk mark for three touchdowns.

The conference records released today show that Hoernschmeyer, the Hoosiers' freshman, is the ranking passer with 67 attempts and 31 completions for 433 yards. Paul Davis, 17-year-old Ohio State fullback, tops him in percentage.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Cleveland Indians have put Hal Trosky, first baseman, in the show-case with a price tag. He will be 31, Armistice Day... Charley Bowles, rookie pitcher for the Athletics, was inducted into the army Wednesday at Huntington, W. Va.

Billy Miller, former amateur who tossed leather here, will box Johnny Cockfield, New York Negro, at the Aragon gardens (former Macao temple) Pittsburgh, tonight. The promoter is Bill Dummer, a former matchmaker of Pittsburgh, who travels through here as a paint salesman. Bill knows his fighters.

Mrs. V. M. Chewbert, Pittsburgh and prominent in western Pennsylvania golf, will move to California. She has held the West Penn women's championship Lehman cup and St. Clair Country club title... Leo Houck, ex-fighter, was defeated for Lancaster county commissioner so he will stay as boxing coach at Penn State college.

Only bows and arrows will be permitted in a 10-day post-season deer hunt in the mountain area near Salt Lake City. Wayne Sines, the B. & A. man of this city, didn't fire any darts at small game yet this season... The veteran hunter, Ned Williams, departed today in quest of ringnecks. He's counties distant doing his shooting.

Sports Ramblings

Sports Ticker Tape:—

Bash boulevard notes:—Mike Medwick, New Castle's 195-pound slugger, returned to the ring wars again in the Kobuta show clean up post and suffered a kayo. Emile Williams, Pittsburgh, sent the localite to Dreamland in three... Regret to report that Rollie Horne, the good looking kid who fought here numerous times, has been listed as missing at sea. The 17-year-old Niles athlete, a brother of Sonny, enlisted in the Navy last year. Sonny is in the Navy, too.

Mailbag stuff:—"Busy as a bee, work not hard but you have so little time to do it in. Imagine attending Princeton and getting paid for it. Say hello to everybody," writes Attorney Walt Kierler, new lieutenant (jg) of the USNR... To "Rye" Mangieri: Eddie Sevesky scored the touchdown in NC's 7-0 win over Massillon. Laure threw the pass. Socrates Roussos converted....

Notes about local athletes in service: Clark Earl McClelland, former Ne-Ca-Hi and Slippery Rock star cager and Irwin high coach, now is a second lieutenant at the Army Air Forces Pilot School at George Field, Lawrenceville, Illinois. He is directing physical training... Russ Currie, Ne-Ca-Hi's gone-with-the-wind runner last season, now is a sergeant. He's with the medical division at Nashville, Tenn....

Miscellany:—Pitt university has been pulling a lot of strings in hopes of replacing Chicago in the Big 10. The Panthers now have dropped nine in a row to conference foes. Do western conference officials need further proof that the Panthers rightfully deserve the Maroons' berth? Joe Cronin is spending the winter as an expeditor. That should help him when he resumes managing the Red Sox....

Latest quotation on golf balls at Gibraltar is $1 apiece—if you can get one. North Carolina U. has lost a dozen of its first string V-12 Navy and Marine players... Chicago university, which retired Amos Alonzo Stagg, College of the Pacific's 81-year-old coach because of his age 10 years ago, is paying the grand old man $3,000 yearly....

Baugh Is Good, Luckman Better, Figures Disclose

Luckman Holds 62 To 52 Edge In Completions; Canadea Top Gainer

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—(INS)—A flurry of statistics spewed forth from the National Football league office today revealing that Sammy Baugh, Washington Redskins all is a "mucho" good passer, but that Sid Luckman of the Bears is still a bit better, and, in fact, the best in the professional ranks.

Baugh, true enough, broke all single game records Sunday by pitching six touchdowns passes and gaining 376 yards against the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Chicago Bear star, however, still leads Baugh in both percentage of completions, 564 against 553, and number of completions, 62 to 52.

Canadea's Leader
Other results of the busy league adding machine showed that Tony Canadeo of Green Bay moved back into first place in ground gaining Sunday when he rushed 122 yards against the Giants while Harry Clark of the Bears, the previous leader, was held to 72 yards against Detroit. Canadeo's total is 339 yards; Clark's is 327.

Canadeo's illustrious teammate Don Hutson, also showed himself in glory Sunday. He made 17 points to shove Harry Hopp of Detroit out of the scoring lead and caught eight passes to lead the league again in this department. Hutson leads the scorers with 54 points. William Paschal of New York is second with 48.

Hammond Named Panthers' Captain

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Center Ralph Hammond will lead the Pitt Panthers against Ohio State on Saturday, Coach Clark D. Shaughnessy announced today. The coach considers this choice good, as the durable snapperback served as acting captain when Pitt defeated West Virginia.

Hammond was shifted from the quarterback position by Shaughnessy, and has become a star in his new role. Meanwhile, the Jungle Cats are continuing intensive drills, determined to break the Buckeyes' string of three victories in a row against Pitt.

Pitt Has Lost Nine In Row To '10' Teams

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—Coach Clark Shaughnessy of Pitt will have a personal score to settle when his team takes on Ohio State at the stadium here Saturday.

Before he came to Pitt, Shaughnessy saw his teams at the University of Chicago lose six straight times to the Buckeyes, most of them downright massacres.

Ohio State also seems to hold a spell over the Panthers, defeating them in 1940-41-42 when Charley Bowser was coach here. The Panthers also have lost nine straight games to Big Ten teams.

Capacity Gallery To See Penn-Navy

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Prospects arose for Penn as the red and blue continued scrimmages for the Navy game before a capacity crowd of 71,000 at Franklin Field on Saturday.

Ted Hapanowicz, ex-George Washington tackle and a starter for Penn State this fall, has enrolled at Penn as a pre-flight student and may get another crack at the Mid-dies. Al Garlic, star fullback from Catawba college, also dons a Quaker uniform this week. Frank Kane, speedy back, injured in the Army clash, may be ready for the Navy tussle which was announced as a sellout yesterday.

VILLANOVA POLISHES ATTACK FOR TIGERS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—(INS)—A wide open affair loomed today as Villanova's Wildcats polished up their off-nave for the Princeton game at Palmer stadium Saturday. Both coaches have agreed to play without benefit of scouting reports.

Quick Pickups On Irish-Army

Scalpers Selling Tickets For $20; About 75,000 Will See Classic

BY LAWTON CARVER
International Service Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Quick pickups on Notre Dame and Army: Tickets to the game Saturday reportedly are selling for $20 each on a face value of $4.40 and the speculators anticipate as much of a harvest as the one they enjoyed on the world series... The N.D.-Cadet tussle has been sold out for weeks, but people still call up sports editor acquaintances and indulge in conversation that runs about as follows:

"Say, pal, I want you to do me a little favor, pal, if you can!"
Inasmuch as everybody (except the writer, apparently) is convinced that Notre Dame is going to run Army right out of the Yankee stadium, we might as well pass on to you the figures on the highest scores ever run up by the Irish.

In 1905 they beat American Medical, 142 to 0... the highest score run up during the Knute Rockne era was 77 to 0 over Beloit... Under Elmer Layden they beat Carnegie Tech, 61 to 0; under Hunk Anderson they made it 73 to 0 over Haskell... Frank Leahy has been doing a little better than all right since he took over the Irish. Nearly every score this season has been one-sided—but mark it down.

FRICKEY, BUFFMIRE LOST TO WILDCATS

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 4.—(INS)—Still suffering from the loss of Herman Frickey and Don Buffmire Northwestern today placed increasing reliance on the passing of Otto Graham to turn back the Wisconsin invasion Saturday.

Local Teams Prepared For Weekend Tussles

Hops Into Limelight

HARRY (HIPPIE) HOPP, backfield star of the Detroit Lions pro team, has hopped into the league spotlight with his offensive play. Harry is a leading scorer and ground gainer. A former Nebraska star, Hopp is a brother of Johnny Hopp, St. Louis Cardinal infielder. (International)

BATTING MARK LOW

The 328 mark with which Luke Appling led American League hitters was the third lowest in the circuit's history.

New Castle, Ellwood City At Home; Shenango, Bessemer Finish Season Away

County football practice fields, with the exception of Taggart Stadium, and Lincoln field, will be deserted plots after this week-end. Local teams are using the proving grounds for the last week as they smoothen their attacks for four skirmishes, two of them on alien grounds.

New Castle goes against Aliquippa in one of the tussles on Taggart stadium's field Friday night at eight o'clock.

Ellwood Vs. Falls
On Lincoln field, Ellwood City high Wolverines stack up against one of the most improved eleven in the district, battling Beaver Falls high on Friday night at 8:15 o'clock.

Rudely upset by New Brighton, Ellwood City seeks to regain some of the prestige it lost. Beaver Falls trots across the stripes confident, more so than ever in view of a surprise 6-0 success at the expense of Aliquippa.

Thus far Ellwood has defeated Zellenople, Union Township, Butler, Monaca and Aliquippa. Farrell, Rochester and New Brighton defeated the Wolverines.

Ellwood still has another game on its card for November 11, when the Wolverines entertain Beaver. The game originally was scheduled for October 15 but postponed.

Coach Eddie Nahas reports his Shenango Wildcats in top form for Saturday's contest with Greenville, on the Mercer county field. In view of the Greenies' stiff battle against both Sharon and Farrell, the locals anticipate one of the most grueling tussles of the season. Shenango is in fine shape despite its stiff "date" with Bessemer last Friday.

Backs All Set

COMMISSION AIRS ANTLERLESS DEER SEASON PROTESTS

Petitions Now Being Checked
Carefully; Three Counties
Want Closed Season

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Signatures to petitions demanding a closed season on antlerless deer in Potter, Cameron and Clinton counties December 13-15 were being scrutinized today by the state game commission.

"Withdrawals in writing are being made by many of those persons who signed the above petitions," said President Ross L. Leffler. "They claim their signatures were attached under a misunderstanding of the facts."

The game law provides for abrogation of the season if more than half of the licensed hunters in each county petition the commission. More than 4,700 signatures were attached to the petitions by sportsmen in the three counties.

Up to Commission
"It now becomes the game commission's duty to check these petitions carefully to determine their validity," Leffler stated. "The work is being rushed as rapidly as possible. To hasten the process, each signer is being requested to certify to his residence and signature by prepaid post card, which will materially reduce the field of investigation."

In the eight counties where open seasons have been proposed, Leffler said, more than 1,000 deer already have been killed by farmers protecting their crops or in highway accidents. He added that crop damage continued to mount.

Approximately 12,000 permits to hunt antlerless deer have been approved, Leffler stated. If the season is abrogated in any county, hunters will either receive permission to hunt in adjacent counties or fees will be returned.

NOTED HORSEMAN DIES IN CLEVELAND

Homer Dale Biery, age 48, of Victory Heights, near Franklin, died in Cleveland yesterday following a lingering illness. He was associated with an oil company in Butler. He was well known in Grand Circuit race circles. His "Little Pat" opened the season in 1939 with three straight victories over "Her Ladyship" one of the world's fastest pacing mares.

Ben Franklin Plays Sharpsvillers Today

Physically fit and confident, Coach Austin Cowmeadow's Ben Franklin junior high Patriots today invade the Mercer county to battle Sharpsville junior high.

Franklin hasn't seen action in a week and is well rested. The Patriots battled Ellwood City to a 0-0 tie after winning the city title from George Washington.

QUICK PICKUPS ON IRISH ARMY

brother, that the Army will stand a lot of beating.

See Terrific Game
They say this is the best Army team since 1925 and possibly the best Notre Dame in history. That gives Notre Dame an edge and the result should be a terrific ball game, unlike some in the past when Notre Dame was six deep.

Creighton Miller is the only outstanding civilian player on the Notre Dame roster. The rest are Navy or Marine trainees, with a good smattering of 17-year-olds also on the squad.

Incidentally, the standings on the Notre Dame-Army feud dating back to 1913 are Notre Dame won 21 and Army 5, and three were tied. Army lost by 13 to 0 last year and the previous season played to a scoreless tie. Army hasn't won since 1931 when the score was 12 to 0.

If Saturday is fair at least 70,000 will see this biggest game of the year, and the crowd might be nearer to 75,000. It is a pageant as well as a sports event, with the color and fanfare of a great fiesta.

Due to wartime restrictions on leaves for trainees, Notre Dame won't arrive in New York from South Bend until Saturday morning. That's a long haul from which to jump off of a train into a football game. Army has an edge in that respect, being located just up the Hudson.

That may be Army's only edge at that.

GOOD NEWS

Hunters in southern states who enjoy that grand sport of spraying pellet patterns at the fast winging mourning dove will be pleased to learn that this fine game bird has shown a substantial increase, and that late season hatching has been particularly successful.

MOROCCO GOLF TOURNEY STAGED ON RACE TRACK

Soldiers Swing Away With Fervent Eagerness; Johnson,
Navy Fireman, Tops

By LESTER RICE
INS Sports Writer

NORTH AFRICA (Delayed)—From "Somewhere in Morocco" the ubiquitous Howard Dupont, now a sergeant in the U. S. Army in North Africa, comes an intriguing tale of a golf tournament played on a nine-hole course fashioned inside a race track.

Most of the players hailed from all but a few of the states of our Union and they swung away with a fervent eagerness although there was but one bag of clubs for each foursome and no ball that had less than ten cuts in its balata skin.

Dupont, far from being a youngster, is best remembered by newsmen who followed the tournament trails until the war came and let the grass grow tall upon them. If he wasn't the official scorekeeper in the press tent he was a self-assigned legman who always burst in first with the story of some fancy round. On many a happy occasion he kept tally for U. S. G. A. championships.

Johnson stands out. Herb Johnson, navy fireman first class and until he donned a uniform the professional at the Butlerfield Country club in Hinsdale, Ill., was the class of the tournament. He had 78 and 72 over the 36-hole route and with Victor Bellinioni as his partner in the amateur-pro event posted a 65-62-127. Bellinioni is director of a bank in Morocco and donated all the prizes.

"In spite of extreme handicaps the tournament was a big success," Dupont wrote. "They played on a course which was a camp for our forces until two months ago. There was a delegation from Marrakech 200 miles away, led by its Pasha and his son and the Pasha's private pro. The Pasha is 68 and his private course is said to be the finest in all Morocco."

Michigan's Wiese Back At Fullback

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 4.—(INS)—Michigan's offense was strengthened today with the return of Bob Wiese to his more familiar position at fullback. Quarterback Jack Wink and Tackle Bob Handzel were named co-captains of the Wolverines.

CIRCUS TENTS?

ARMY HAS 'EM

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga. — When the army needs anything, it asks the Quartermaster Corps—and gets it.

Recently, says a communication at Headquarters, Fourth Service Command, requisition came to the War Department for three circus tents, in a hurry. The problem was laid right in the lap of the Quartermaster Corps. The tents were found, two in Alton, Ill., and one in Fort Wayne, Ind., and in practically no time at all had been shipped to Alaska to be used for shows to entertain American troops in the far north.

STEADIER TONE SEEN IN MARKET

Net Gains Recorded During Morning Are Mostly Fractional Increases

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(INS)—The stock market developed a steadier undertone today as selective buying bolstered prices soon after an active easier opening. Most issues recovered from yesterday's sharp break on peace rumors, although net gains were generally fractional.

Steels gained fractionally on the return of the coal miners to work with Bethlehem and Jones & Laughlin showing small advances. Communications were higher with Western Union A. off over 2 points yesterday, recovering a large fraction.

Allied Chemical, up a point at one time, led the chemicals while U. S. Rubber gained fractionally on a dividend increase in an other firm rubber group. Rails were quiet and steady while packing shares and utilities held within small fractions of last night's close.

Liquors were firm with American Distilling again hitting a new 1943 high, advancing over 3 points before falling back. Oils were steady.

Jap War Spirit Not Weakening

So Declares Veteran American War Correspondent, Among War Repatriates

NEARLY BLINDED IN MANILA ATTACK

By BRYAN YOUNG
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PORT ELIZABETH, Union of South Africa, Nov. 4.—Karl Von Wiegand, veteran American foreign correspondent who was almost completely blinded in the Japanese bombing of Manila, declared today that so far there has been no marked weakening in the Japanese war spirit.

Strengthen Singapore

Von Wiegand, who was in Manila on his way home from the far east when the Japanese invaded the Philippines, pointed out that at the time he left his place of confinement at Shanghai the sons of Japan had not yet faced a serious defeat and already had succeeded in strengthening many captured strongholds, particularly the big ex-British base at Singapore.

Within Shanghai itself, however, the noted newspaperman predicted that the coming winter months will bring increased suffering to the poorer classes, especially the Chinese, who even now are starving to death.

"This winter there will be a shortage of coal and rice," Von Wiegand predicted. "The price of the latter already has rocketed, causing great hardship among poor Chinese. A great many Chinese now are dying of hunger and 100 dead bodies are picked up in the streets of Shanghai daily."

Blinded In Manila Attack

Von Wiegand, interviewed upon his arrival at Port Elizabeth aboard the repatriate liner Gripsholm, was caught in Manila at the time of the Japanese sneak attacks on that city and Pearl Harbor. On Christmas day, 1941, a stick of bombs burst so close to his hotel that he was blinded.

The correspondent was totally blind for the next 10 months. In the meantime—in June, 1942—he left Manila for Shanghai. After a series of operations, partial vision was restored in his left eye, although his right eye still is sightless.

"This ends my active career," the correspondent mourned.

Von Wiegand said the Japanese treated him fairly well at both Shanghai and Manila. In Shanghai he was permitted to move outside the Hotel Metropole grounds for short periods. He was permitted no visitors, but had a radio on which he was allowed to listen only to the local station. Later the Japanese restrictions were relaxed still further and he was able to listen to the British and San Francisco stations. During his stay in Shanghai, the Swiss consul-general in that city advanced him money for his bills and hospital expenses, he added.

During the last few months an especially marked deterioration began to be noticeable in the city's food, Von Wiegand said. He still managed to get an occasional meal in a French restaurant where even simple fare for two cost 300 Chinese dollars (approximately $4. American).

"Two persons could easily eat $1,000 ($13.33 American) worth as prices increased," Von Wiegand said. "They were fantastic when we left."

Fellowship Dinner For YWCA Tuesday

National Secretary To Speak
At Gathering To Be Held At Cathedral

Y.W.C.A. annual all-association World Fellowship dinner will be held at the Cathedral next Tuesday, November 9, at 6 p. m.

Miss Doris Frizzell, a national Y.W.C.A. secretary, will speak and bring news from other Y.W.C.A.'s in 33 countries, all of whom, at this time of year, celebrate World Fellowship week in meetings for prayer and world friendship which are not interrupted because nations are at war with one another.

Mrs. J. Glen Berry, Y.W.C.A. World Fellowship chairman, together with representatives of all Y.W.C.A. clubs and church membership captains, have planned to carry out the theme of world friendship through a very interesting program of world music led by Miss Esther Gibbons.

Mrs. Jesse Kerr, co-chairman of the World Fellowship committee, asks all Y.W.C.A. club and church captains to report the number of members in their groups who will attend the tureen dinner on Tuesday night, the club by Friday evening and the churches by Monday noon, in order that she may arrange table space for the 500 or 600 Y.W.C.A. members who attend. Junior Girl Reserves on the World Fellowship committee will act as hostesses to usher groups to their tables, and Senior Girl Reserve representatives will have charge of the sale of rental badges. Each group plans its own tureen dinner.

TRAFFIC DEATHS REDUCED

BUT DOUBLE BATTLE LOSSES

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Wartime driving restrictions have aided in reducing traffic deaths but the total since Pearl Harbor is twice the nation's battle losses, the National Safety Council said today.

Since war began, 2,940 have died in combat and 46,000 in traffic accidents, the council said, adding that official government figures list 65,170 wounded and missing, excluding prisoners of war, while traffic injuries were suffered by 1,600,000 persons, 110,000 of whom were permanently disabled.

There are approximately 3,000 species of orchids under cultivation in the world, and there are more than 75 different varieties of wild orchids in the United States and Alaska.
